$4 Million Paper Plant On Lulu Island

VANCOUVER (CP)—Plans to construct a $4,000,000 paper converting plant on Lulu Island were announced here today by Crown Zellerbach Canada, Ltd.

Construction will start in May and is scheduled to be completed by the end of the year. Production is expected to start in February of 1956.

Clearing and filling of a 152-acre site on the south arm of the Fraser River began several months ago.

The plant will be one of the biggest single-story industrial plants under one roof in western Canada, and will include a 96-inch corrugating machine, valued at $350,000.

More than 400 persons will be employed at the plant.

'Tis Woman's World; They Control Money

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Mrs. Ruth Sherrill, vice-president of the First National Bank here, said Tuesday that women spend 85 cents out of every customer dollar and own 70 per cent of the private wealth in this country.

"Men may get their pictures on money," she said, "but women get their hands on it."

WENT TO 'FIX FURNACE'; MISSING EVER SINCE

COURTENAY (TCP)—RCMP today were still searching for Tom Carlyle, 53, missing from his home here since Saturday evening.

Mr. Carlyle, well known for his auctioneering trade, left several friends sitting in the living room Saturday night when he went to "fix the furnace." He hasn't been seen since.

A tracking dog from Parksville, hampered by the wanderings of search parties and heavy rains, failed to uncover a scent.

UNLESS BOUGHT ON GROUNDS

Car Prizes Banned On PNE Tickets

The Pacific National Exhibition will lose an estimated $200,000 annually through a new interpretation of federal lottery laws by the B.C. attorney-general's department.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the government will not allow the PNE to sell advance tickets which give the buyer a chance on new cars, as well as admission to PNE grounds.

In past years ticket sales had started as much as one month before the Ex opened. The AG's department has ruled that such "lotteries" are only legal when tickets are sold right on the fair grounds.

Many other agricultural fairs in B.C. followed the lead of the PNE, and sold advance tickets with prize inducements. The $200,000 loss estimated by PNE officials represents tickets sold to persons who do not attend the exhibition but buy tickets only for the lottery.

Britain, France Reject Red Note

MOSCOW (UP)—Britain and France today rejected Soviet complaints against German rearmament contained in Russia's December notes threatening to cancel friendship treaties with the two nations.

The Franco-British views were made known after the ambassadors of the two nations visited the Soviet foreign office. Texts of the notes were not available.

Tachen Evacuation Now Key to Crisis

CHINA CRISIS AT A GLANCE

Eden Backs Ike Policy; Angrily Rebukes Attlee

LONDON (UP)—Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden staunchly defended President Eisenhower's Formosa policy but appealed in the House of Commons for an immediate cease-fire in the Formosa straits as a means of gaining a "wider settlement" in the Far East. Britain's main concern is to stop the fighting between Chinese Nationalists and Communists, he said.

At the same time, Sir Anthony angrily rebuked Labor leader Clement Attlee's statement the U.S. action constituted interference with China's civil war. "Never in the century," said Eden, "has Formosa been considered part of China." But he indicated Britain considered "the offshore islands"—presumably the Tachens and Quemoy—as within Chou En-lai's sphere of power.

Senate Committee Approves, 26-2

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate foreign relations and armed services committees approved, 26-2, giving President Eisenhower full war powers to defend Formosa and its outposts. Senator Wayne Morris, Oregon, Independent, joined with Republican William Langer of North Dakota in opposing the resolution.

Peiping Sees 'New War Provocation'

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's Peiping radio, in a series of broadcasts, warned the U.S. 7th fleet to quit Formosan waters, and declared talk of a cease-fire "is sheer humbug, designed to camouflage the new war provocation of the U.S. government."

No Change in U.S. Defense Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Wilson told Congress he sees no need for "important changes" in U.S. armed forces "short of war." He didn't mention Formosa. Wilson does not expect Russia "to take action during the next few years that would deliberately precipitate another world conflict."

'Brazen Intervention' Says Pravda

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet newspaper Pravda charged President Eisenhower's "stop or we'll fight" policy is "brazen intervention" and a "preparation of direct aggression" against continental China.

CANADA RATIFIES GERMAN ARMS PACT

OTTAWA (BUP)—The House of Commons has voted in favor of rearming West Germany within the NATO framework after External Affairs Minister Pearson warned that failure to do so will destroy the growing forces of Democracy in the former enemy country. The vote was 213 to 12.

Victorians Regain Boat-Rail Connections

Faster Trans-Continental Railway Service Gives City Double Benefit

Victoria will benefit two ways from the fast trans-continental train service to be introduced by Canada's two big railways at midnight April 24.

Not only will they save between 12½ and 16 hours traveling between Vancouver and Toronto, but they will once again be afforded good transfer connections between trains and boats.

DATE MOVED UP

It was learned from CPR officials in Victoria today that to coincide with the start of the faster train service, B.C. Coast Service will bring its faster ships onto the Victoria-Vancouver run April 24. In previous years, these ships have not been employed until June 1.

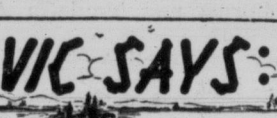

The schedule will be arranged so that eastbound passengers will leave Victoria by boat at 1:10 p.m.; arrive Vancouver at 5:25 to connect with the east-bound CPR train "The Canadian" at 8:30.

ARRIVES 9:10

Westbound, the fast trans-continental train will arrive in Vancouver at 9:10 a.m., and will connect with the ship leaving for Victoria at 10, arriving here at 2:15.

Stuart Keate, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, which last year complained to the CPR regarding the lack of good connections between ships and trains, said today's announcement was "most heartening."

He felt the CPR could expect more business people making use of the shipping facilities because of the more convenient schedule.

Clash Between U.S. Fleet And Reds Is Possible

By WILLIAM MILLER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—Jet fighters and fighter-bombers from the powerful U.S. 7th Fleet patrolled the skies north of Formosa today in a warning to Red China against interfering with American defense strategy in this tense Far Eastern area.

The American war planes—some 300 strong—are on hand to cover and assure the success of the planned withdrawal of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's 10,000 Nationalist troops and 20,000 Chinese civilians from the invasion-threatened Tachen islands.

(London Daily Express correspondent Russell Spurr, now in Shanghai, cabled Tuesday night that the U.S. 7th Fleet runs the risk of attack if it helps the Nationalists carry out the evacuation.

He wrote: "I was told tonight that the Tachen islands are only 18 miles from the Chinese mainland. A close approach by foreign ships could be interpreted as an aggressive gesture."

"Chinese Communist authorities are particularly incensed by the evacuation of civilians," he wrote. "They call it 'kidnapping.'"

A second shipload of 100 children and army dependents from the Tachens was expected to reach Formosa Thursday. The first shipload, carrying 177 children, mothers, widows, ailing soldiers and members of a nursing staff, arrived Tuesday.

A formal decision by the Chinese Nationalist government to proceed with the Tachen evacuation, tightening Formosa's lines of defense, was expected momentarily. But there were hints of dissension in the Chiang Kai-shek cabinet.

Authoritative sources here said the Nationalist government has agreed with the Americans that the Tachens must be evacuated, but the formal decision is awaiting Chiang's approval.

Reds Beaten Back in 4th Try

Waves of Nationalist heavy bombers smashed at Red Chinese invasion fleets north of the main Tachen island.

Nationalist pilots reported sinking one 1,500-ton Communist warship and said a fourth, unsuccessful Communist attempt to invade Matsu Island—10 miles off the China mainland coast—had been beaten back.

Night raids of heavy Nationalist bombers appeared to have silenced Communist artillery on Yikiangshan Island, barely eight miles north of Tachen. Chinese press reports here said Vice-Admiral Alfred M. Pride, commander of the 7th Fleet, used 300 planes in the force north of Formosa, but naval sources here would not confirm the number of planes involved.

American pilots from the carrier Princeton were seen in Taipei today, leading to speculation the carrier had arrived in Formosan waters to reinforce the four big carriers already here. That would raise to 500 the number of carrier-based aircraft available to help in the evacuation of Tachen.

Reds Ease Off Islands

There were no reports of the landing attempt was repulsed.

The island, only six miles off the Communist-held coast, is 100 miles south of Tachen and center of Chiang Kai-shek's island defense outpost line. Reports from Matsu said the Reds had brought 70,000 troops into position just opposite the island and had massed large numbers of tanks.

The Nationalists predicted Communist invasion of the three main Nationalist outposts—Tachen, Matsu and Quemoy—the moment the Communists consolidate their hold on Yikiangshan.

Chiang Cabinet Splits on Ike Plan

The cabinet met in emergency session Tuesday night, but a foreign office spokesman denied reports the Nationalists had formally announced their intention of abandoning Tachen.

During the cabinet session O. K. Yui discussed the expected early evacuation of Tachen and re-deployment of Nationalist forces and the role of the U.S. Navy.

Informed sources reported a split in the cabinet over the decision, with some officials holding out for a fight to the death by Tachen's 10,000-man garrison despite overwhelming Communist air superiority there.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek conferred before the emergency meeting with Vice-Admiral Pride, and Read Admiral Frederick Kivette, commander of Task Force 77, which would carry out the evacuation.

Reliable sources said Chiang favored going along with President Eisenhower's recommendations that the United States Navy assist in removing the 10,000 troops and 20,000 civilians from the threatened islands.

The cabinet discussed reports from Foreign Minister George Yeh, now in Washington, on the United States change of policy and said it would issue a statement later.

The announcement was withdrawn without explanation.

Nationalist sources insisted beforehand that if the government decided to go along with the United States recommendations it would do so reluctantly and would make this clear publicly. But even the Nationalist command in Tachen said the island could not be held without full air and naval support.

Brrrr! Mercury Dips To -24 in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg shoppers and office workers reeled with the cold today as bone-chilling winds swept along Portage Avenue, the city's main thoroughfare.

Winds up to 20 miles an hour blew over the city. During the night the mercury dropped to 22 below and as dawn broke it plunged another two degrees.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson disclosed today that the atomic-powered submarine Nautilus is performing beyond expectations and has paved the way for eventual operation of atomic-powered aircraft.

'NEVER WORSE OFF IN SIBERIA'

Immigration Office Besieged By Delegation of New Canadians

CALGARY (CP)—"You can tell people I was a prisoner of the Russians in Siberia for a long time. I was never worse off there than I have been sometimes since I came to Canada."

These bitter words were spoken by a young German when a party of unemployed immigrants to this country

"marched" on the local Department of Citizenship and Immigration Tuesday. They staged their demonstration to protest about what one of them termed the "false promises" given by overseas immigration officers.

They sought aid.

Their main complaint was that they had not been in Canada long enough to qualify for unemployment insurance and could get financial assistance from no other source.

All said they would gladly return to their own countries if they had the means to do so. The delegation of 18 men was made up of Germans and Italians.

Department officials said they could make no comment on the "situation" until each man had been interviewed individually.

FROM CP AND BUP DISPATCHES

Federal officials expressed fears today the Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec may be preparing a play for stakes of $147,000,000 in his income tax dispute with the federal government.

They said Duplessis may be out to get that amount in retroactive tax rental payments to compensate for the sum Quebec did not receive by refusing to sign a fiscal agreement with Ottawa as did other provinces.

The Quebec premier indicated the play for higher stakes in his latest letter to Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent. The letter termed Ottawa's offer of a 10 per cent income tax reduction as inadequate.

Duplessis also referred to the seven years since postwar tax rental agreements went into effect with most other provinces and pointed out that Quebec did not impose its own income tax during that period. This, he said, was "an obvious attempt (by his government) to co-operate with federal authorities."

Officials in Ottawa refused to comment for publication on the latest letter from Duplessis.

But they pointed out that Quebec had in effect lost $147,000,000 during that seven-year period by not signing a tax rental agreement. Now the only hold-out province, Quebec's income in tax rental payments from the federal government would have been that much greater than the provincial government actually collected.

Duplessis' letter followed the proposal made by the prime minister two weeks ago to extend a flat 10 per cent federal income tax reduction to any province in 1955 and 1956 which levies its own income tax. The plan also permits deductions of up to 10 per cent on the federal tax in Quebec for residents who paid the new provincial income tax in 1954.

Tory Party Backs Arms Pact

Full Progressive Conservative support has been pledged in today's Commons vote on admission of a re-armed West Germany to NATO.

Hon. Earl Rowe, acting opposition leader, said the Conservatives, faced with the government motion for ratification of the Paris agreements, will vote for it as a party, "confident there is no other common sense or available alternative."

External Affairs Minister Pearson planned to speak just before this afternoon's vote closed out a serious but subdued four-day debate in which 49 of the chamber's 265 members have spoken.

Ratification by the Commons was not in doubt as the debate neared an end Tuesday night. However, 10 of the 24-member CCF group have said they will vote against it, contrary to party leader Coldwell and Angus MacInnis, Vancouver Kingsway, who have said they will support it.

If the Commons were to agree with CCF opponents, Mr. Rowe said, West Germany would be kept out of NATO and the West's right to control the use of her armed forces would be forfeited.

Finance Minister Harris declined Tuesday to announce

Would Probe Election Costs

A senator, who doesn't have to worry about getting elected Tuesday night suggested a Senate investigation into the campaign expenses of candidates for the Commons.

Sen. J. A. McDonald (L-Nova Scotia) said that only 33 out of every 100 registered voters took the trouble to cast their ballots in general elections.

"I am aware that some members of the Senate and probably more of the (Commons) will think that I am presumptuous in bringing this matter up in the Senate," he said. "It is to be regretted that interest in political meetings is on the wane in so many constituencies."

McDonald suggested the Senate study the increasing costs of elections, as indicated in the election expense accounts which are required by law to be published after an election.

"Although I cannot prove misuse of funds at election time, many candidates will frankly admit the high cost of elections, while others hesitate to do this," he said.

Inquiries in eastern Canada by the combines investigation branch have not disclosed any collusion among mixers of fertilizers, Justice Minister Garson said Tuesday.

He said in reply to a question by E. G. McCullough (CCF-Moose Mountain) that the inquiries were made after informal complaints from farmers' organizations.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A bill introduced in the Pennsylvania state legislature would prohibit candidates for public office from using old photographs of themselves during the campaign. Representative Willard F. Agnew Jr., co-sponsor of the bill, said the measure would prevent a candidate "using a picture taken 25 years before, showing him youthful and vigorous."

Jail Costs in B.C. Up 43c Per Prisoner

Daily Maintenance Charge Increases To $4.57; 9,814 Committed in 1954

Over half the 9,184 persons committed to B.C. jails in the fiscal year 1954 had only elementary education (194 of commitments had college or university training), 4,787 gave their occupation either as laborer or logger, 50% were expensive drinkers, 537 were drug addicts.

Statistics tabled in the legislature Tuesday showed that 8,286 were male, 898 female. Their maintenance in jail for the year cost B.C. taxpayers $1,833,805.

It cost 87 cents a day to feed each prisoner, and a total maintenance cost per day of $4.57. In the previous 12-month period, feeding costs were 83 cents a day, and maintenance totaled $1.44 a day.

The majority of prisoners, 5,582 out of the 9,184 total, had only elementary education. Of the remainder, 663 were illiterate, 2,674 had high school education, and 194 had attended college or university.

The prisoners' drinking habits showed about half were "intemperate" in their use of alcohol. Intemperates accounted for 4,759 prisoners, 3,929 were classified as "temperate drinkers."

There were only 496 total abstainers in provincial jails during the 12-month period. Some 537 of the 9,184 inmates were drug addicts, 1,738 were alcoholics, 246 were loggers, and 216 were seamen.

Loggers and laborers comprised the two main occupational groups. The statistical tables gave the following occupational breakdown: Agricultural, 390; commercial, 612; domestic, 961; laborers, 3,851; mechanics, 435; professional, 99; no occupation, 289; loggers, 1,738; miners, 361; fishermen, 201; and seamen, 246.

Racial origins of the prisoners were: white, 7,667; colored, 49; Indian, 1,398; Mongolian, 59; and Hindus, 16.

The figures would indicate married men and women are better behaved. Single persons accounted for 5,766 of the jail population. Some 2,017 were married, 252 widowed, 903 separated, 116 divorced.

The largest single age bracket was that from age 30 to age 40. The breakdown shows the following number in each age group: Under 21 years, 970; 21 to 25 years, 1,204; 25 to 30 years, 1,191; 30 to 40 years, 2,016; 40 to 50 years, 1,944; 50 to 60 years, 1,303; over 60 years, 497.

Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, one of the most unco-operative groups in the prisons, refuse to divulge their ages, married status, education, or other personal details.

STOTT in the HOUSE

Crowded Opening . . .
Crowded Speech

If you happen to be a very special guest at the opening of the Legislature, you have a seat on the floor of the House. If you're less special, you sit in the galleries.

And such is the democracy of a session opening that the less special you are, the more comfortable you can be.

The distinguished personages at yesterday's ceremonies could not have been closer together without sitting on the laps of other special guests.

It was crowded down there, crowded and colorful. The B.C. Supreme Court members added their splash of scarlet, flanked by the sober blacks of County Court and Court of Appeal. UBC's Dr. Norman A. MacKenzie topped his university gown with a tasseled mortar board, the clergy wore their robes and a number of officers from the services lent that touch of gold braid.

The ladies' hats, no doubt, are described adequately elsewhere in this paper. To a layman they appeared to range from the elegant decorations of a Christmas tree to outside but nicely molded Saratoga chips in pastels.

The show was that well balanced mixture of color, tradition and dignity associated with all peacetime Legislature openings.

If it stirred more than usual sentiments, you could attribute them to the presence of His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor making his final appearance to read the Speech from the Throne. His retirement from Government House this year will be regretted.

Rumored for Cabinet Post

By TOM GOULD
Times Legislative Reporter

Premier Bennett is expected to name a Vancouver Island MLA to a new cabinet post—minister of public works—before the end of the legislative session.

The post will be created through a split of the present department of public works. One ministry will be known as the department of highways, the other the department of public works.

Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi, a staunch believer in super-highway construction, will retain the highways portfolio, while a new minister will be appointed the works post, it is reported.

Two names already are going the rounds in legislative corridors. They are W. N. Chant (S.C.—Victoria) and Herbert Bruch (S.C.—Esquimalt). Of the two, Bruch, a former BCHIS clerk who resigned to contest the Esquimalt seat in 1953, is considered most likely.

Vancouver Island has been without cabinet representation since formation of the minority Social Credit government in 1952.

'Neglects'
Labor Requests

Leaders Criticize Government Failure to Plan
Reopening of LRA During Session

Local labor circles disapprove the Throne Speech because it made no mention of re-opening the Labor Relations Act or of other labor requests.

Robert Smeal, executive member of the B.C. Federation of Labor, said: "The speech pays no attention to the working man's needs."

Victor Midgley, Island vice-president of the B.C. Trades Union Congress (TLC), said failure to re-open the act "shows how the government can ignore a large group of people."

Edwin Haw, financial secretary of local I-118, IWA (CIO-CCL), said there was very little constructive legislation for labor. The speech was a lot of words "with nothing in it," he said.

Mr. Midgley was also annoyed at the lack of mention of the frequently requested stamp book system for holiday pay among construction workers. Of the apprenticeship act reference he commented "there is plenty of room for revision."

Government contribution to a civil servants' medical services plan could be made a temporary measure in anticipation of a national health scheme, he said. Despite labor dissatisfaction with the speech, Mr. Haw said he was pleased with the fact the standing committee on labor would function this year after little action in past years.

BETTER ROADS?

Plan to establish an experimental curative program for drug addicts drew general praise, including commendation from a leading city doctor. "It is the only practical way to handle it." The scheme would have the effect of putting peddlers partly out of business, he added.

Frederic W. Hawes, businessman, and long a leader in the fight for improved Island roads, said the government was certainly justified in its announcement of appointment soon of a minister of highways. Other advocates of improved road conditions swung behind Mr. Hawes.

Member of the UBC Board of Governors, Judge J. B. Cleary, said the new building program there would mean a medical building, and expressed hope there would be sufficient money also for a new arts building.

Establishment of a UBC dental faculty was "something we have been trying to get for the past 15 or 20 years," said Dr. J. C. Foote of Victoria. "It is my opinion this will do it," he said.

FIRST LEGISLATURE BILL
ENLARGES SUPREME COURT

Increased litigation in B.C. led to introduction of a bill in the B.C. Legislature Tuesday enabling the appointment of an additional member to the Supreme Court.

At present there are eight justices and the chief justice on the Supreme Court bench. The bill will enable the appointment of a ninth justice.

In 1948 there were six Supreme Court justices in B.C., but pressure of litigation has boosted the number to the present eight. Supreme Court justices are appointed by the federal cabinet.

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—The air force assigned a group of Lancasters today to provide an escort next week for the royal plane bringing Princess Margaret to the West Indies.

Maritime Air Command said the planes would escort the Royal aircraft from a position in mid-Atlantic to Gander, Nfld., and then convey it to the northern boundary of the New York oceanic control zone.

The escort Lancasters, all specially-equipped search and rescue planes, will operate from Greenwood, N.S., and Torbay and Gander, Nfld. Other aircraft will stand by at Torbay and Gander.

Princess Margaret is scheduled to fly from London Airport, January 31, bound for Trinidad, where her West Indies tour begins. The Royal Air Force will escort her plane from Britain to mid-Atlantic.

Shopping Centre Aid
For UBC Financing

Commercial, Residential Area Planned
In $10 Million Expansion Program

Supermarkets and hardware stores will rise on University Endowment Lands to raise funds for construction of student residences and faculty buildings on the UBC campus.

The new commercial and residential area is planned by the provincial government to pave the way for a $10,000,000 UBC expansion program recommended by UBC president Dr. N. A. MacKenzie.

Details of the development, which will contain a modern shopping centre, with supermarkets and other commercial buildings, will be announced Friday by Lands Minister R. E. Sommers.

The program is the government's answer to the problem of finding funds for the UBC expansion program. The Endowment Lands were intended originally as the site of luxurious residential area.

Money from the sale of the lands was to pay for UBC requirements through establishment of a trust fund. However, slowing land sales have forced the government to seek other means of financing the badly required new buildings.

Until the projected new residential area and shopping centre pour sufficient funds into the trust fund, the government will advance money to the university to enable immediate start on the $10,000,000 program.

The Throne Speech read at the Legislature opening Tuesday announced the government has approved the program.

UBC president Dr. MacKenzie said Tuesday following adjournment of the House a new arts faculty building, a building to house basic sciences of medicine, and about $2,000,000 in residential housing for students top the priority list.

New residences would replace the old army huts in which 1,200 students are now living. The arts and basic sciences buildings would cost about $2,000,000 each, he estimated.

Dr. MacKenzie said he would like to see the day when all out-of-town students attending UBC could be accommodated in on-campus residences. He said enrollment at the university is expected to reach 10,000 students by 1964, an increase of 4,000 from this year's.

Dr. MacKenzie said the university has asked the government to increase the UBC land area from 548 acres to 1,000, to handle the proposed construction projects.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 26, 1955

A Full Agenda

AS IS CUSTOMARY, YESTERDAY'S Speech from the Throne, although the longest on record, gave few details of the projects and policies which it listed. Sufficient was revealed, however, to indicate that the session now starting will be an important one for British Columbia.

Premier Bennett is to be congratulated on his recognition of the needs of the University of British Columbia, and his support for the proposed building program. The $10,000,000 undertaking is to be spread over the next 10 years or less, and should do much to assist the institution to accommodate a constantly growing student body.

In other fields the Speech indicated further action on matters already known to the public. Highway construction, PGE extension, and Power Commission projects are heralded. The latter two agencies preserve in a sense the announced Social Credit dictum that the Government will not borrow but pay as it goes (although the Government must guarantee the agencies' obligations and is therefore responsible for the debt). But the possibility that highways may be financed through additional borrowing suggests an outright departure from professed Government doctrine.

These and other large-spending projects provide the reason for the Government's statement that there will be no tax reductions this year. Splitting of the Department of Public Works into two portfolios, as announced in the Speech, shows the extent to which road building and maintenance have become a major enterprise in this expanding province.

The work is deemed sufficient to occupy the full time of a Minister, assigning to a separate department the provision and upkeep of buildings and other public projects.

Details of the new formula for financing education will be awaited with particular interest by the municipalities, whose own budgets will be vitally affected by the Government's policy. The problem is admittedly a difficult one and until a short time ago it was apparent that no solution had been found. What method of support for education has now been devised will be one of the prime items of the session.

The program for control of drug addiction also promises interest. There have been suggestions that a system of free distribution of drugs to confirmed addicts, as practised in some European countries, would suppress the extensive background of crime which accompanies the drug trade. Some such system, it is believed, may be proposed by the Government to cope with a social problem that has reached serious proportions.

Some of the topics slated for discussion will prove highly controversial. It is to be hoped that those of major importance will be introduced early in the session to enable the Legislature to give them full consideration. Other equally important matters were not touched on in the Speech, such as the dispute between the Federal Government and the provincial administration over development of the Columbia River, and the Federal proposal for a new tax agreement with the provinces. Of these much will be heard later.

New Approach on Point Ellice

THE CITY COUNCIL'S ATTENTION has been drawn to the method by which British Columbia will take over the Lion's Gate bridge and the suggestion has been advanced that the subsidy principle be applied to Point Ellice.

There are obvious differences between acquisition of the Lion's Gate span and construction of a replacement for the present link over the Inner Harbor at Point Ellice. But the significant fact remains that all British Columbia taxpayers will contribute toward government purchase of the former. This is so because tolls will meet only part of the debt charges. The rest will come from the public. If the people of this community are to pay their proportionate share for the mainland project, they seem to have a logical right to expect provincial financial aid for their own job.

At least the city occupies a good position from which to bargain on that score.

The desirability of a new Point Ellice Bridge is not in question. At best the present arrangement which restricts use of the crossing is only a makeshift. While restrictions are observed, the span may be safe enough, but it obviously has outlived its usefulness and, under certain circumstances, could become as serious a hazard as the preceding bridge, whose collapse wrote tragedy into the city's earlier history.

On several occasions Victoria has approached senior governments for assistance in replacing the span. None of those appeals has been successful, but never before has the city had a better argument for help than it has now.

Backed by a nest-egg fund equivalent to about half the estimated costs of a new bridge, the council should prepare its brief and open negotiations with the provincial authorities at the earliest moment. Point Ellice Bridge grows no safer as the days pass.

Bringing in a New Industry

THE HISTORY OF THE DARTMOUTH, Nova Scotia, plant of Fairley Aviation Company of Canada Ltd. lends additional importance to the firm's decision to open an aircraft repair unit at Patricia Bay.

From modest beginnings the Maritime company has developed into a vitally important organization now engaged in the production of modern guided missiles. Its personnel has risen from a mere handful of men to more than 1,000 at the present time.

Plans for the Patricia Bay branch are drafted on the company's Maritime experience. From the repair establishment could come an industry of major size.

The environment seems highly favorable. The addition of torpedo bomber strength to other conventional aircraft using the airport indicates an expanding field for Fairley. Conceivably further service could be provided for commercial planes, perhaps attracting some of the TCA business now carried on in Winnipeg.

A new industry has been introduced to this community. Its location here has been encouraged and assisted by Victoria's federal member, Dr. F. T. Fairley, whose name, incidentally, does not imply any connection with the company. As he has done on other occasions, Dr. Fairley has exerted himself to assist the city. If the plant can parallel the phenomenal growth of its parent in Dartmouth, Victorians will have increasing reason to thank their member of parliament for his good offices.

Success Story in Greece

IN A RECENT EDITION THE Christian Science Monitor featured the story of Walter Eugene Packard and his Marshall Plan work in Greece.

Mr. Packard, a 65-year-old soil and reclamation expert from California, went into the country when it was suffering from attacks by guerrillas, when its economy was tottering, when large portions of its people lived in refugee camps and when many of them lived on nothing better than subsistence diets.

To sterile parts of the country he brought modern techniques which made wheat and rice grow where nothing grew before. His land reclamation and irrigation projects—or the projects he inspired and helped the Greeks to carry through with U.S. financial aid—have been a significant factor in bringing Greece close to self-sufficiency.

The details of his story are impressive. Not only had he the knowledge to help the people with their age-old agricultural problems, he had also the ability to win their confidence and to build confidence in them.

Statistics cited in the account of his accomplishments are factual. They provide the proof of a success story that stretches from the human triumph of providing near-starving children with enough to eat to the satisfying achievement of welding communities into confident and productive groups.

Mr. Packard has provided the answer to critics who seek to discredit humanitarian United States efforts. The people of Greece who eat more satisfactorily now than they did before the Californian taught them how to use their land should have no difficulty in assessing those critics. They can judge on the basis of performance. And few performances are more impressive than the practical interpretation of the U.S. aid program in that part of Europe.

Safety Zone

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

If you watch yourself in a healthy way, it can be interesting and instructive. Of course you don't want to go poking your finger too roughly into your mind. The human mind is a sort of haggis...

useless, or worse, without humor. The humorless humble are a great nuisance to themselves and everyone else. They are also embarrassing.

I WAS watching myself just now, not without private amusement, and I found that my ideas on time-wasting are highly subjective. When I am relaxing time, by my favorite methods, I am really being very wise—I am relaxing... a lost art. I am mulling things over, getting my work into shape. I am not in a feverish haste to get my thoughts onto paper. Good old sober Dave, he sits and chews his cud. He reflects. He is practically a sage. He knows you can't write without leisure, a fact too little known. Further, he knows that nothing is really wasted, not even time. All the bad spots of his life and all the apparently blank spots have made him what he is now; without them he would have been something different... probably something worse. And not for him the weariness, the fever or the fret, here where men sit and reach each other groan. Absolutely unalarmed, that's me.

YES, but when another man is wasting time it looks rather different. At once I can see his essential laziness, his lack of enterprise, his wasted opportunities. His calendar is full of the years that the locust hath eaten. "What hast thou done, O heart, with thy spent years?" That's not just Paul Verlaine talking. It is everybody except me. I want to fend these blokes Arnold Bennett's rather depressing little book, "How to Live on 24 Hours a Day." Or H. G. Wells' one on "What Are We to Do With Our Lives?" And I'll not tell them that Bennett burnt himself out and killed himself by taking his own bustling advice; or let them know that Wells' worst enemy was his energy. Such knowledge would mislead them badly. They would say "Oh, the hell with it, then," and they would keep on sun-bathing, and making themselves soggy.

BECAUSE I dislike sun-bathing myself. I feel very moral not to sun-bathe, and I consider the true sun-addict to be far more immoral than an absinthe-drinker. At least the absinthe-drinker does not boast about how healthy he is making himself. He doesn't make a virtue of his shiftless hobby. If you tell him he is a fool, he agrees. Try telling a sun-bather he is a fool, and he takes umbrage. Umbrage is about the only shadow he admires. And incidentally, I am going to invent a tonic and name it Umbrage. Partly for the sheer pleasure of seeing my huge advertisements all saying TAKE UMBRAGE! And partly because taking umbrage is indeed a really bracing tonic to some people, though rough on their nearest and dearest.

I AM always glad to hear how harmful sun-bathing is, which is merely spiteful of me. I like to hear how it ruins the chemistry of the body and encourages several fatal diseases and makes the sun-bather blank-minded and so on. And not only does it waste his time AT the time, but it makes him inefficient when he gets back to work. This, of course, is the immorality I spoke of. I was not thinking of exhibitionism and various frustrated types, or comic-strip humor, or penny-arcade humor... I leave all that to the late author of Bringing Up Father, and his millions of spiritual descendants, all of a twitter and a titter.

HOW different, and how far more moral, are my own ways of wasting my time... what am I saying? ...of recruiting my strength. Doing the crossword puzzle in The Times (London), now... that's a real intellectual workout... it flexes the muscles of the mind. Yet you will hardly believe this. I have been busy over my crossword when some caller or other has burst in, and I have been the victim of cheap sneers about busy writers. Pay no attention to these low ruffians. They would not understand. And it is the same with playing darts, or whistling, or staring into the fire, or shooting all afternoon at old light-bulbs with my little pistol... people make easy cracks about "doce fac niente." Which means "sweet doing nothing." Which is absurd.

PASTRY

MONTHS and months ago a cousin of mine said she would send me some samples of her short stories. Not that I am an expert on converting a narrative into a self-conscious and slick display. I was just to act as a slightly skeptical general reader. But then she got coy and thought perhaps I might be very bad for her. I might harm her either through syrupy praise or cousinly rudeness, and she wanted neither. So I wrote and told her I would try to be accurate but polite. "I will be polite as pie," I wrote. "You know... short and crusty." To which I've had no reply. How very odd.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES AND DISCOUNTS

It has been brought to the attention of the B.C. (Provincial) Government Employees' Association that statements have been made in the press, by letter, by radio announcements and by discussion through the Junior Chamber of Commerce, that Provincial Government Employees are receiving discounts from the merchants of Victoria.

I have been instructed by the Victoria Branch of the B.C. Government Employees' Association to state that no approach has been made to the merchants of Victoria by this organization nor do we receive any discounts from the merchants of this city.

We regret that such ill-advised statements should be made.

SUPPORT FOR MARGARET

I see there is quite a furor in ecclesiastic dovecotes over Mrs. Margaret Knight's broadcast. Why? Has that lady not as much right to go on the air as any other body or association?

Why should the church have the monopoly of the air? Everyone, irrespective of their religious or political opinions should have an equal right to broadcast.

The churches are playing a losing game today and they only make their case worse by their intolerance and narrow-mindedness, and opposition to freedom of expression.

If their religion is as strong as its supporters claim it to be, it should be able to be proof against all criticism; but what do we find? There never was an association so afraid of criticism as the church.

If honest expression has to be confined to certain sections of society, where is our boasted freedom of opinion?

I am certainly pleased that someone has had the courage to come forward and tell the truth and expose that old superstitious humbug. More power to her!

POLITICAL PATRONAGE

Premier Bennett's reply to Mr. Arthur Laing M. L. A. regarding the latter's statement that defeated Social Credit candidates and others have been given jobs (political patronage) is to say the least utterly astounding. It should be noted Mr. Bennett does not deny the charge.

Whether or not patronage is practiced by the Liberals is irrelevant. The point conveniently and haughtily brushed aside by Premier Bennett is the fact that on every political platform in British Columbia and in every Social Credit propaganda pamphlet Mr. Bennett and his Social Credit followers solemnly proclaimed over and over that political patronage was eliminated from the government.

Mr. Editor, it makes one wonder just how long the voters will tolerate a government that gained office through habitual, smug hypocrisy.

Time will no doubt tell.

DISGUSTED.

Confusing—To Be Conservative

The British Columbia Progressive Conservative Association has been laboring for years against the lack of federal leadership in the party. Spokesmen say that the West is ignored in Ottawa and that federal chiefs think of us as nit-wits, and the West as only a tourist attraction.

Western protests have been studiously ignored, as stated by Tom Macdonald the B.C. provincial president, at the annual meeting in Vancouver on November 13th last, where he pointed out that letters he wrote a year ago to Federal Leader George Drew still remained unanswered.

At a provincial meeting called at Vernon, B.C., last July, a ten-hour probing of the facts ended in a vote of no confidence in George Drew. Top Party men in the four western provinces share this feeling, as do their followers, while some of the rank and file are puzzled and bewildered. The three Federal members for B.C.—Green, Pearkes and Fulton—have taken the Drew line, weakly supported by a handful of nangers. When these members were rebuffed by the people who elected them, they nevertheless continued on instructions from Ottawa, and formed local splinter groups, disowning the duly constituted body in B.C.

Last October Mr. George Hees, the national president, came to B.C. to restore peace to the party and, after talking with both sides, and finally in conference with the provincial president and the B.C. Leader Deane Finlayson, an agreed statement was prepared for the press to be issued by Mr. Hees, but this was withdrawn by him a few hours later, Mr. Macdonald told the meeting.

The confusion continues and was recently more confounded in a letter, signed by Mr. Hees himself, to Robert Fort, president of the Victoria Federal Association inviting him forthwith to name a candidate for the Victoria riding. A meeting was called on Monday, January 17 and this request from Mr. Hees was proceeded with and reported in the press, only to be met with a denial in the press the following day on instructions attributed to Mr. Hees, which denial has received neither confirmation nor apology from Mr. Hees to Mr. Fort.

All this points to the confusion and chaos at headquarters and gives weight to Western denunciations that our leadership is not leading. The duly constituted party in B.C. demands that a national Convention be called to clean up the chaos and to frame a policy to put before the people.

Memory of Singapore

BY JOSEPH ALSOP, From Singapore, Malaya

JUST under 14 years ago, this reporter first came to Singapore on a special job for Gen. Chennault and his Flying Tigers, who were training in those days in Burma. It was already night, and the rain was coming down in heavy, impetuous sheets, but the young British pilot of the very old Wellington bomber was as contemptuous of the weather as he was of the enemy. (He blew himself up with his own bombs, a few weeks later, attacking the attackers of the Prince of Wales.) So we landed somehow, taxied to a halt before a lighted hangar, and were pleasantly greeted by a heavily mustachioed R.A.F. group captain.

Getting out in the rain was a hurried business, but no one could have avoided a glance at the object in the hangar entrance. It was a biplane with no cowling to streamline its vast radial engine and total armament of two small machine guns. The group captain was asked just what was this thing that seemed to have come out of a boys' aviation annual for 1925.

"Haarrumph," said the group captain, blowing the raindrops out of his mustachios. "Haarrumph! Why that's one of our fighter squadrons. Jolly manoeuvrable little aircraft too, old boy."

LESS COMPLACENT
This rainsoaked recollection recurs at the moment because it points a contrast. This year in a situation of much more remote peril, the British authorities in Singapore and Malaya are immeasurably less complacent than they were in the time just before Pearl Harbor. In fact if anyone succeeds in waking up the British and American governments, the able soldiers and civilians at the head of affairs here will have a large share of credit.

The peril in Malaya is still distant in time, but its outlines are already obvious. It results from the Asian Munich which was signed at Geneva. The triumph of the Viet Minh in Indo-China is having two kinds of effects here.

On the one hand, there are the direct effects. Last year, the brilliant Gen. Sir Gerald Templer could reasonably hope that another twelve months of hard pressure would change the whole dimensions of the problem of Malay's Communist guerrillas. He did not expect mass surrender, but he did expect an epidemic of local surrenders that would restore security to big areas of Malaya that have not known full security for many years. But the watchword that keeps the guerrillas in the jungle going is, "Father Mao Te-tung is coming, so hang on a little longer."

The events in Indo-China seemed to give reality to the slogan. So the problem of the jungle guerrillas so not only remains exactly what it always was in Malaya. In addition, a new zone of complete Communist control, no less than twenty miles in width, has been significantly established just across the border in Thailand.

In addition, the Viet Minh triumph has importantly assisted the Communist effort of underground infiltration. In this Chinese city, somewhere between 60 to 80 per cent of the Chinese students have joined or are deeply influenced by the Party.

Since half the population of Singapore is under twenty-one, the student attitude is more than normally meaningful. Furthermore, the newspapers of the greatest Chinese millionaires in Singapore are beginning to tend toward the Peking line. And there are many other signs that the Chinese, who form nearly half the total population of Malaya, are now watching and waiting for a Communist bandwagon in Asia.

These direct effects of the Geneva Munich are trifling, however compared to the indirect effects. These comprise the mournful calculations of the British authorities in Malaya as to what will happen if the Communist bandwagon in Asia really gets rolling.

ANXIOUS WATCHING

From this vantage point, the situation in Cambodia, Laos and Thailand is being watched with anxious attention, that if Thailand falls, the situation in Malaya will be untenable on the present basis.

A bold rectification of the Malay-Thai frontier, to give a defensible line on the Kra Isthmus; at least three more divisions of ground forces from Britain, Australia and New Zealand—these may well be the minimum requirements to keep Malaya under control, even if no Communist forces cross borders aggressively.

To guard against the latter danger, the British would also frankly like an American military guarantee of Malaya, and would like that guarantee spelled out in the form of a promise of air and naval aid in event of war.

Despite these worries at the top, of course, the surface of life in Singapore is pleasant and untroubled. The bandwagon has not yet started rolling. But since it is extremely likely to do so unless serious efforts are made to stop it, an idea of the problems that may result is not without considerable current value.

The Fear

Fear is an evil thing that we have made. Is with us now and will be to the end. And we are numb and stupefied, afraid of what we know and others may intend.

How shall we fashion peace, we master men—

Do vultures love their fellows at a feast? What matters that we write it with a pen. The will for more is his who has the least.

Big Three or Four or Five or what you will—
Can they alone make cherubim of churls? Will all the world obey their "Peace be still?"

Better to try and coax the swine with pearls.

Stark naked fear is now our heritage. So well deserved, our merited award; 'Tis time to stay, 'tis time to turn a page.
To read, and mark, and learn thy service, Lord.

Montreal and Victoria

VICTORIANS should not allow themselves to get into a swivel over the recent observations of our Montreal friend, editor Gerard Filion. Chacun a son gout, as we French-speaking Canadians say; Charlie has picked up his boy's gout, and on him, it looks good.

Keate

It is always healthy to "see ourselves as others see us," and M. Filion's impressions, picked up in a three-day visit, can do no harm. In four years of living in Montreal and Victoria, I have come to admire both cities, and firmly believe that these are the two most attractive places to live in Canada.

M. Filion is quite right when he says that small news receives a disproportionate play (in comparison to Montreal) in our town. We generate little news of national importance in Victoria. His own visit here received handsome coverage for two reasons: (1) a series by M. Filion on his visit to Peiping had been featured in this newspaper, and thus made him an object of special interest to our readers; (2) we have been attempting to assist the revived Canadian Club with wholehearted publicity support of its visiting speakers.

Our news, as I have said, seems lacklustre in comparison with that of Montreal. We have no political showmen here like Camille Houde, Maurice Duplessis, Adrian Arcand or Rene Chalouit.

When I was working as a correspondent in Montreal, the big stories concerned graft in the City Hall (whatever else you may say about our boys, they are honest); widespread vice and gangsterism; an extensive drug racket conducted by a local priest; and assaults on asbestos workers by Duplessis.

police, who were described in M. Filion's newspapers as "armed hoodlums."

In contrast, we carry in our news columns the story of a man, arrested for the heinous crime of driving his car without water in the radiator. The big controversy of our police force at the moment is whether or not they should revert to the old-style bobby helmets.

In describing our city as "slow," M. Filion overlooked a form of slowness which is peculiarly Montreal's: I remember so well asking a friend to meet me in front of the Sun Life Building, while I picked up my car in a parking-lot behind that elegant edifice. In the 5 o'clock rush hour, it took me exactly 25 minutes to circumnavigate the building and collect my friend.

In the same time in Victoria we can drive to the country, have a swim, change clothes, and catch a 20-pound spring salmon!

For observations on the "slowness" of Montreal, M. Filion might have one of his reporters interview the weary army of office workers who line up these frigid winter evenings (while we here are playing golf) waiting for the rickety, overcrowded streetcars which wobble them home in anything from 60 to 90 minutes. Their comments would not be printable, even in so liberal a journal as Le Devoir.

As I have said, Montreal has its attractions: it has a dozen fine restaurants, Fridolin, a lively theatre, smart shops, and a lot of charming, intelligent people whose mellifluous language makes sweet music for any sensitive ear. It also has blizzards, low wages, the worst civic facilities of any major city in North America, and wretched slums.

Take your pick. Having lived in both, I'll take Victoria.

YOUR HEALTH

Several Types of Anemia

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Many persons ask what they can do for anemia, and I cannot help them at all because there are several types of anemia with different causes and different degrees of severity.

My impression is that 80 per cent of the women who are being treated for anemia really haven't enough anemia to fuss with. If I had it, I would not take any iron or liver extract. The trouble is that most of us doctors keep forgetting that while men are supposed to have 15 grams of hemoglobin for each 100 cubic centimeters of their blood, the average woman has only 13 grams.

For instance, as I write this, in comes a woman terribly distressed because the other day a physician told her she had an anemia. A check shows that her hemoglobin reading is 12.5 grams. My impression is that this is within limits of normal for her. I cannot see how any of her few nervous symptoms can be due to anemia, and hence I would not make that diagnosis. I can, of course, be wrong. Although I am a large man and have been remarkably healthy all of my life, for many years my hemoglobin reading was around 13.6 grams. I never thought of getting treatment for it, and this week I find it has gone up to 14.6 gm.

WELL-BEING NOT AFFECTED

I will never forget the woman who, years ago, taught me much. When she came to see me about some hemorrhoids that were bleeding badly I was a bit startled when back from the laboratory came the report that she had only 6.7 grams of hemoglobin, or only 50 per cent of the amount she should have had. One seldom sees such a severe secondary anemia. Evidently, she had bled so often and so much that her blood-forming organs could not keep up with the demands for more hemoglobin. It is a complicated chemical that the body finds it hard and time-consuming to make.

But here is the surprising fact. When I asked the woman if she felt weak or tired or dizzy or if her ankles swelled she said, "No." She said she had such marvelous health that she did all of her housework and washing, and took care of a good-sized family. As she said, she wasn't ill. She hammered home to me a lesson which every one of us physicians should learn early in his medical life, and this is that we must not always get excited about a little variation from normal in someone's bodily measurements. If we do not remember that we will spend our lives treating strenuously slight variations in laboratory reports which are really well within the limits of normal.

For instance: this week I saw a woman who had been treated strenuously for hypothyroidism. Why? Because one estimate of her basal metabolic rate had been reported as 12 per cent below the supposed normal. This seemed to me as justified as treating me for gigantism because I am some six inches taller than the average for America for men.

Actually, instead of treating the woman for hypothyroidism, I would have congratulated her for being well within the limits of normal. Often, to get people to understand what I mean when I do not want to treat them for a slight variation from normal, I say I have two good friends: one is 4 feet 6 inches tall and the other is 6 feet 5 inches tall. They are not average, but in 20 years I have never heard of either of them being ill.

SPECIALIST NEEDED

If a person has an unusual type of anemia he or she will do well to see a specialist because this is a field in which the expert with his extra knowledge, is needed. Even an internist like myself may be quite incompetent to make the diagnosis in an unusual case. I know I cannot keep up with all the fine points about anemias and the rarer diseases of the blood-forming organs.

A considerable percentage of women tend to be anemic all their days. Either their blood-forming organs are not strong enough to keep making blood fast enough for them, or they lose so much blood each month that they cannot build it all back in the three weeks in which there is no flow.

There are two main types of anemia: the secondary or common type which is due to the loss of blood from hemorrhoids, or from excessive menstruation, from a peptic ulcer or from diseased kidneys, or, in later years, from a cancer somewhere in the digestive tract. The other, rarer type of anemia is the so-called primary or pernicious anemia which is due to the inheritance of a tendency. In cases of secondary anemia the first thing the doctor must do is find out whence the blood is oozing and being lost, and the second thing is to stop that loss.

In cases of secondary anemia the percentages of red blood cells remaining is higher than the percentage of hemoglobin. This is because of the difficulty the body has in building back the hemoglobin. A glance at stained smears of blood will show that the red cells are paler and a bit smaller than normal.

In cases of primary anemia the percentage of hemoglobin is higher than the percentage of red cells, and a glance at the blood smears may show red cells a bit larger and redder than normal.

In cases of pernicious anemia the patient has no hydrochloric acid in his stomach, and he may have gotten grey in his twenties. Persons with a secondary anemia need iron to help them make blood. Liver extract and B 12 are of particular value in cases of primary anemias. Sometimes a severe anemia will be found to be associated with a severe blood disease, such as leukemia.

Two 1,000-pound bombs exploded on a bomb trolley at the RAF station at Markham, Norfolk, Sept. 20. Donaldson, the commanding officer, went to the scene and, leading three airmen, freed the trolley driver while the burning trolley threatened to explode other bombs knocked to the ground.

Mass Meeting Urges Better Ferry Service

Gulf Islands Residents Demand Extended Service, Larger Ship

GANGES—Two resolutions demanding improved ferry service to the Gulf Islands were strongly endorsed by residents of Salt Spring Island who turned out in large numbers Tuesday night for a meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

VICTORIANS INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

DUNCAN (CP)—A Victoria couple was injured and their automobile totally wrecked Tuesday night in a three-car collision on the Island Highway two miles south of here.

The first resolution was directed to the Gulf Islands Ferry Co. Ltd., holder of the present contract for the Fulford-Swartz Bay service, stressing the seriousness of the congestion and urging the company to place a larger and faster boat on the run.

It was stated by Gavin Mouat, president of the company, that the Motor Princess will be available to the company if other shareholders agree to its purchase.

This vessel could provide a more adequate service and would be able to use the present docking facilities.

It was also recommended that fares be collected on board the ship, a heated lounge with a coffee counter provided, chairs placed in such a way that tourists will be given the best view of the scenery, sides of lounge and cardeck be as open as possible to obtain the maximum view, revision of schedule to allow commuters, guests and tourists to catch a later ferry on Friday, and late runs a few times each month to enable residents to attend evening entertainment in Victoria.

A second resolution urged that a committee be appointed to meet with Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi and present a brief regarding future contracts of the Fulford-Swartz Bay ferry service. This committee will include one member from each of the other Gulf Islands, and will stress the importance of the ferry service to the economy of the islands.

TRANSPORTATION FIRST Reasonable transportation for the people living on the island will be the first consideration of the brief, with rates charged to be under government control and comparable to those charged on all other highway ferry links now operating in B.C.

It will be asked that the operating schedule shall be adequate to meet the demands of the area covered by the service and shall be included in the terms of the contract.

The brief also will urge that the operating company shall be compensated with a subsidy sufficient to yield a fair return for the services rendered under these terms, specifically those referring to reasonable fares and freight charges.

URGED TO SELL During the discussion Mr. Mouat stated that the government has definitely urged his intent to sell out to Black Ball Ferries, which company would operate without a subsidy.

The Gulf Islands Company, operating in the interests of the citizens of the islands, refused to sell where there was no guarantee of present services at present prices, he said.

Suggestion of a bus service straight through from Ganges to Victoria was made, and Jack Smith announced that arrangements were already under way for such service.

The chairman was A. M. Brown and resolutions were presented by Mrs. A. Wells and J. B. Acland.

The secretary, Colin Mouat, spoke of the Vesuvius-Crofton ferry, and it is expected that tenders for the wharf at Vesuvius Bay will be called about February 10.

Mr. Brown announced that the annual meeting of the chamber will be held February 5, at Mahon Hall. An appeal for funds for the volunteer fire brigade was made by J. Barker.

Port Alberni Men Raise $532 at Tea

PORT ALBERNI—The sum of $532 was raised by members of the Elks Lodge at the "men's tea" at which men prepared the food and waited on tables.

The money will go towards meeting the $800 deficit in the recent drive by the Klansmen's Club for a new ambulance for the city.

The cause was helped along by Mayor Loran Jordan of Port Alberni, and Mayor Ben Wright of Alberni, each of whom baked a cake to be raffled at the tea.

Exalted ruler Harry Graf opened the tea and welcomed guests. During the afternoon Harry Chang and Fred Lee, both of the Chinese Freemasons Society, presented the Elks with a cheque for $200.

Mrs. Ted Gunnerud of the Ladies of the Royal Purple gave a cheque for $10 and several items of refreshments.

A 25-pound turkey donated by Jack Begg was won three times and each time re-donated to raise further funds.

This is the second event of its kind prepared by the Brother Elks. All booths and tea tables were kept busy throughout the afternoon hours at the Elks Hall.

Mainland Planes Jam Airport At Patricia Bay

SIDNEY—Patricia Bay Airport resembled a metropolitan air base Tuesday when several Vancouver-bound aircraft were forced to land due to fog conditions on the Lower Mainland.

Two local TCA flights were canceled and the aircraft remained here until noon. A TCA training craft also was grounded here.

TCA sent two of its transcontinental North Stars from Vancouver, and three Canos and two DC-3s from the RCAF Sea Island station held here to await landing limits at the Mainland airport.

Operations returned to normal by mid-afternoon.

NOT LIKE OLD DAYS

Port Gamblers Weakening; Ready for Bed by 6 a.m.

PORT ALBERNI—Three o'clock in the morning is too early to close a gambling club, A. G. McCulloch told the city council on behalf of club operators here.

Council had decided to extend closing hours from 2 to 3 a.m., but the operators want the council to reconsider its planned amendments to by-laws covering their establishments.

The gamblers want their clubs to remain open until 6 a.m., he said. He suggested that if they closed earlier there would be a tendency for patrons to continue their games at lodging houses and other establishments over which the city had no control.

Mr. McCulloch said that in former days he had known of men who started gambling Thursday afternoon and played continuously until the following Tuesday.

Nowadays, he said, a gambler is ready for bed by 6 a.m.

He asked that the later closing be allowed on a trial basis until July 15, with the understanding that if "anyone was being hurt" then the plan could be abandoned.

Council announced no decision.

CHEMAINUS—Mrs. J. Milmore and Vera Olafson were named as local delegates to attend the provincial meeting of the IWA Ladies' Auxiliary to be held in Vancouver Feb. 14 to 17.

Mrs. D. Honeyman was named as alternate. Mrs. Milmore reported that Christmas gifts had been sent to the auxiliary's adopted patient at Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Council Backs Labor Stand On Resources

Aldermen Refuse Referendum Plan

PORT ALBERNI—Port Alberni city council endorsed in principle resolutions submitted by the Alberni Joint Labor Council relating to the retention of controls of Canadian resources by Canada.

But the suggestion that "the whole question and policy for development and control of our natural resources be put to the people in a referendum ballot" was not supported and at the suggestion of Ald. Jack Perry the section was dropped.

In the labor council's declaration it stated "the policy of the present government of B.C. is leading to the alienation of the priceless treasures of the people into outright ownership and control of American big business, that will export raw materials to manufacturing plants in the U.S.A., thus depriving Canadian workers of their jobs."

A second resolution asked that the Canadian government reassess its policy regarding sale of natural resources, particularly in respect to a "generous agreement with American big business allowing it to control the St. Lawrence seaway."

It also asked for the construction of an all-Canada gas pipeline and a halt to the export of raw materials.

Cemetery Plans Given Approval At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI—Plans were submitted to the city council by the Memorial Gardens Association for the commencement of a cemetery near the junction of the Port Alberni Highway with the Trans-Canada Highway.

No objection was made to the plans as the city itself had given up its idea of making a cemetery development as a civic project.

For many years Port Alberni has been a city without a cemetery—a fact that was once featured in the famous cartoon "Believe-It-or-Not" by Ripley. Resignation of city clerk C. Q. Ryan was accepted by the council. Council decided to advertise that the position will be vacant by the end of February.

736 Residents Give Blood At Albernis

PORT ALBERNI—A two-day blood donor clinic closed here after 736 pints had been contributed, thus setting a record that far exceeds any previous collection.

The clinic brought many new donors out for the first time, according to Norman Schroeder, president of the local Red Cross group.

Credit for the success of the drive to bring out donors was given to the committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce headed by Helge Harvest that provided publicity.

Last summer's two-day clinic collected 630 pints of blood.

Next clinic is to be held in the Albernis in July. This is the first year that the Red Cross clinic will make two visits to the Albernis.

Employment Sets January Record In Duncan Area

DUNCAN—Favorable weather conditions this month has allowed many logging operations in this district to re-open, and there are more persons employed this January than in any corresponding period of recent years, reports R. S. Robinson, Duncan manager of the National Employment Service.

At present there are 475 fewer active claimants for unemployment insurance benefits than last year at this time.

According to Mr. Robinson there is a total of 1,035 active claims for UI benefits. Of these, 832 are ordinary claims, 14 are working short time for their regular employers and 89 were unable to qualify for regular benefit but qualified for supplementary benefit.

Mr. McCulloch said that in former days he had known of men who started gambling Thursday afternoon and played continuously until the following Tuesday.

Nowadays, he said, a gambler is ready for bed by 6 a.m.

He asked that the later closing be allowed on a trial basis until July 15, with the understanding that if "anyone was being hurt" then the plan could be abandoned.

Council announced no decision.

Central Saanich Will Check Library Account of $5,200

SAANICHTON—Central Saanich council will query the accuracy of a bill of $5,200 submitted to the council by Victoria Public Library for bookmobile service, and considered at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The motion was made by Ch. John B. Windsor. If the bill is found to be correct, then the council will protest, since according to its agreement with the library the charge to the municipality for service is $2 per family.

During the year 11,000 books were taken out, making the charge close to 50 cents per book.

Council "resurrected" an existing by-law covering truck operations, and adopted it to curb the carrying of overloads on secondary roads in the municipality.

It will limit truck loads on the secondary roads to 6,000 pounds in the winter, and 12,000 pounds during the summer.

Council announced that Hiram Weisman, director of the Capital Region Planning Board, will appear before the council Jan. 31 to explain regional planning for this area.

Chemainus Girls Sign Mainland Dance Contracts

CHEMAINUS—Two local girls, Marilyn Matticks, 18, and Connie McGahey, 21, have signed contracts to dance professionally in Vancouver.

Both girls work at secretarial jobs in the Mainland city, and the "entertainment" field was opened up for them when they were spotted while continuing dancing studies at the British Columbia School of Dancing. Asked to audition, they were signed to a three-month contract by the Cave Supper Club, where they will dance in the chorus.

Can a food help you to overcome IRREGULARITY?

You've probably tried lots of laxatives. But do you know about Kellogg's All-Bran? It's the original natural laxative cereal pioneered by W. K. Kellogg nearly 40 years ago. All-Bran is a delicious dish that promotes comfortable elimination without harsh purging.

Relief from Constipation

The greatest advantage of All-Bran is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to insufficient bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage. All-Bran, is made from the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel and supplies natural food bulk. Just eat daily a one ounce serving for breakfast and drink plenty of water. It will improve your "Intestinal Tone" so necessary to comfortable regularity.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Double Your Money Back

All-Bran is a wholesome, good tasting cereal that has helped millions. We'll prove to you that Kellogg's All-Bran will give you gentle, effective relief from constipation within 10 days or give you double your money back. But be sure you get Kellogg's, the one and only All-Bran. Kellogg's, London, Ontario.

Bubbly Jock, Neaps, Tauties, too, As Brawishly Blew the Bagpipes

By TONY DICKASON

As the piper played there was respectful silence.

Even if there had been a modified rapid-fire burr-r of from the 250 Scots voices present, they would still not have been heard.

Donald Graham, with that intense concentration and mystic look typical of all pipers, blew brawishly. He didn't pause either in paces or pieces as he piped up and down the rear of St. John's Church hall, to the delight and edification of the Victoria Burns' Club at its 33rd annual dinner.

The gathering of Scots and people who are sorry they aren't, marked the 196th birthday of Scotland's peasant poet, Robbie Burns, heard songs of home and inhaled a wee bit of heather fragrance.

A sprig of white heather was attached to each program. As well, many of the men present wore bits of heather in lapels; some of the women wore red roses of Scotland. There was also a fair sprinkling of wiggly-waggly kilts, and the odd dirk or two was stuffed into hose.

Alex Allnut brought in the traditional haggis held high. It looked like a modern plastic package in its shiny sheep's stomach container. Mr. Graham was the piper here, too.

Food followed: bubbly jock (turkey), chappit tauties (mashed potatoes), neaps (turnips), then the haggis with a (fat) cake and new masket (fresh) tea or coffee.

"I'll have a little more of that stuff" said a distinctly Scots lad nearby.

"That isn't stuff, that's haggis" said the pretty girl serving, in as unaccented and affronted a voice as could be found anywhere in Oak Bay High.

"You make good coffee in Scotland?" he was asked.

"Guidness no. I like the brew here."

Chairman John MacKay thanked kindred societies present for their patronage, and inroduced H. L. Smith, principal of Victoria High School, who gave the toast to the "Immortal Memory."

Mr. Smith, no Scot himself but one of partially Scots ancestry, spoke on the "universality of Burns" and laced his address with numerous quotations from the poet and other writers.

The poet lived in a period of change and contributed immeasurably to this in his "heart" approach to poetry and society.

Victoria Daily Times 7
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 26, 1955

rather than the prevalent intellectual outlook, he said.

Heard on the varied musical program were Stanley Martin, well-known local baritone, who has appeared on the CBC; contralto Grace Adams, and vocal solos by Mrs. V. J. Christison.

Toast to "the lassies" was presented by Harry Wood and the reply given by Mrs. A. G. Prosser. Accompanist was Mrs. E. A. Cartwright.

Concluding remarks were by Capt. D. J. Proudfoot.

Social Season Spotlight Shines on Opening of Legislature

SURROUNDED BY OFFICIAL PARTY, Lieut.-Gov. Clarence Wallace, with Mrs. Wallace at his right, takes the salute from guard-of-honor Tuesday at opening of the third session of the 24th B.C.

Legislature. Major R. A. McAlpine, officer commanding guard, composed of Work Point artillerymen, can be seen in left foreground. Officers on steps are aides to His Honor from Vancouver.

ENTERING LEGISLATIVE BUILDINGS to open Legislature officially with reading of Speech from the Throne, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor is accompanied by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

PREMIER AND MRS. BENNETT receive Air Commodore W. A. Orr, CBE, ED., and Mrs. Orr at afternoon reception. Premier Bennett attended the state dinner but because of the death of his mother in New Brunswick last Sunday, did not go on to the ball.

ATTENDING THE STATE BALL in an unofficial capacity for the first time in 26 years was Capt. J. G. Cromack, who retired from the position of secretary at Government House at the end of December. He and Mrs. Cromack also were guests at the opening of the House.

Army Guns Salute Popular Governor

The social event of the year, the official opening of the third session of B.C.'s 24th Legislature, was carried out Tuesday with full measure of pomp and pageantry.

A warm sun shone on Victoria's legislative grounds as Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace drove up to the main steps of the Legislative Buildings, and an army artillery unit thundered a 19-gun salute in his honor.

The Calgary band of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry played "The Queen" while at 15-second intervals the guns of the 119 Battery, MAA, RCA, commanded by Capt. B. Tolson, roared across the Inner Harbor.

City police constables, sirens screaming, raced ahead of the Lieutenant-Governor's gleaming black car.

More than 3,000 persons stood in the brilliant sunshine as His Honor, in full levee uniform, with cocked hat, and golden filigree, marched through the ranks of the smart honor guard.

The P.C.L.I. band broke into the strains of "Greensleeves" during the inspection. Major R. A. McAlpine commanded the honor guard of troops from Work Point Barracks.

MET BY PREMIER

The popular Lieutenant-Governor, who presided at the House opening for the last time, since he retires this fall, was met at the main entrance of the buildings by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

Before His Honor's arrival, the cry "Make way for Mr. Speaker" echoed through the corridors, and Speaker of the House Thomas Irwin, in the robes of office, made his way to the Speaker's Chair.

Medals tinkled, swords clanked, and the latest in feminine fashions was on display as more than 200 invited guests jammed the legislative chamber for the ceremonies.

The Lieutenant-Governor arrived in the chamber, flanked by his four Vancouver aides-de-camp, and preceded by the sergeant-at-arms bearing the Golden Mace.

Church leaders, resplendent in crimson robes, members of the judiciary, former government officials, and other visitors listened quietly as His Honor read the Speech from the Throne.

EMPRESS RECEPTION

Following adjournment of the House, Premier W. A. C. Bennett and his cabinet greeted guests at a reception at the Empress Hotel.

In the evening, the Lieutenant-Governor entertained 40 guests from government, church, and law circles at a Government House dinner. There were no women present.

The day was climaxed with the State Ball, at Government House. Military men in brightly-colored uniforms, and others in formal evening attire danced with partners dressed in the latest Paris and New York gowns.

GRACIOUS SMILES OF WELCOME from His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor greeted more than 500 guests who attended the State Ball. Here they shake hands with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mainwaring of Vancouver, who have just returned from a month's vacation in Arizona.

INFORMAL CHAT between Governor and H. E. Hunt, assistant sergeant-at-arms of the Legislature, is caught during lull in proceedings by Times camera. Mr. Hunt is senior attendant of Legislature. "He's a fine gentleman," was his comment after Mr. Wallace moved away.

HERE FOR THE OPENING OF THE LEGISLATURE and the reception that followed in the Empress Hotel were, left to right, Mr. and Mrs. W. R.

McConach and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Kingston, all of Somenos Lake near Duncan.

PAGEANTRY OF THE OPENING CEREMONY outside Legislative Buildings attracted crowd of 3,000, and there was much craning of necks to see colorful dress of dignitaries taking part. P.P.C.L.I. Band from Calgary played for inspection of guard after 19-gun salute had been fired.

Crack Swimmers to Show Here

Rated fourth fastest woman in the U.S. in backstroke competition, Seattle's Alan Potter will swim for Washington Athletic Club when a 15-member team meets Victoria YMCA Swimming Club Feb. 5 in Crystal Garden. Miss Potter, still in her teens, has equalled the women's Canadian backstroke record. Local club will enter about 30 swimmers in this invitational meet, first against WAC in three years.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

"How can we drum up a little business?" The speaker was Fred Hutchinson, general manager of the Victoria Hockey Club, and recently returned with the Cougars from a prairie road trip.

"Well," said Billy Reay, in respect to the Cougars' Western Hockey League contest with New Westminster Royals at Memorial Arena tonight:

"The club HAS been going good."

"Even in Saskatoon?" someone suggested wryly.

"Yes, even in Saskatoon," said Billy of the 5-0 shutout administered the Cougars by the Quakers. "After the first period it was a whole of a hockey game." (The Quakers took a 4-0 lead in the first period of that contest).

"And those Quakers will rack up a few other teams before the season is over," commented Hutchinson. "They're a good club right now."

"How about Edmonton?" someone said. "If we played better in the game we lost 3-0 than the one we tied, 2-2," said Hutchinson.

"Glen Hall was terrific," chipped in Reay of the Edmonton netminder. "He took one goal off Eddie Dorohoy when he was right in, and twice beat Andy Heberton. Once he got his hand on an ice puck and the other time caught a sizzler from about 12 feet."

"From what I've seen of him, I'd say he is at least 25 per cent better than he was last year," Reay added. "What about Calgary, then?" It was asked of the Cougars' 6-2 victory over the Stamps.

"It could have been 10-0 and it would have been a true indication of the play," said Reay, "although you never can tell whether we were that good or they were that bad." Then he added: "But we WERE sharp that night."

"And Marcel?" added Hutch of goalie Marcel Pelletier who scored in his own net; "you should have seen the goal he scored. He took—well it was just like an icing shot from Hucel, swung the puck around with his stick and put it right in the goal."

"Off the post," corrected Reay.

Hurt and Hurting, But Ready

"What about the injured?" it was asked—"Dorohoy?" "What's the matter with him?" said Hutchinson.

"He's got a sprained thumb," said Reay, "but he'll be ready."

"Durham?"

"It isn't water on the knee, like we thought," said Reay. "It's blood, and they've drained it. He'll be on the ice."

"Marquess?"

"He's in bad shape," confessed Reay. "He's got a bad neck and a sore leg. But you can't keep him out of the line-up."

"Anything else?" someone queried the coach.

"Well, I've moved the defense around," said Reay. "I've got Keating playing with Clune now and Durham playing with Davidson. Keating plays better on the left than he does on the right and its working out fine."

Reay added that Bill Bucyk, the club's fifth defenseman, would possibly play forward as he had done on the road at times.

The 'Business' Near at Hand

"But what about that 'business'?" someone interjected concerning Hutchinson's opening remark.

"Our business is to win," said Reay.

"Yeah, but why not start a hassle like the Dick incident between Vancouver and New Westminster," it was suggested in jest.

"Well, MacKenzie (Kenney of the Royals) better not come over here and start popping off," asserted Hutchinson.

"Did you get that?" a listener asked another.

"Dick! Keating will eat Dick," commented Reay.

"But about the game?" The question was too obvious to ignore.

"It'll be a battle of the goalkeepers," said Reay.

"Yeah, a goalies' battle," added Hutchinson.

And that's how business is drummed up, the "business" being tonight's game at the Arena.

It could be added that if the Cougars beat Luke Dechene (the goalies' battle), the drums will beat themselves.

"Right, Hutch?"

Seixas went down before the Aussies' Lew Hoad, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 8-6.

B.C. Shuttle Meet Here Next Week

For the second successive year, the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club will host the B.C. Badminton Championships.

TOURING RUGGERS HERE IN MARCH

VANCOUVER (CP)—It will cost the British Columbia Rugby Union $8,500 a bring the Oxford-Cambridge team here in March.

Total cost of bringing the British students to Canada and the United States will be $17,500. The Northern California Union will pay $9,000.

Oxford-Cambridge will open a six-game B.C. visit March 17 against UBC Thunderbirds; play at Victoria March 19, and close their stay April 2 with a game against B.C. all-stars. The British team will leave April 4 for San Francisco for a six-game series with northern and southern California.

Shuttlers Organize Junior League

Junior badminton players (under 18 years of age) from Cordova Bay, Victoria and Brentwood have joined together to form a junior section in the Lower Island Badminton League.

Each team from the three centres will play four games in a home-and-home, round-robin series. The first match opens Saturday at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club with Cordova Bay meeting Victoria Lawn at 8.

Regular league play for the senior members winds up on March 19. Presentation of trophies and the league party will be held at the Victoria Club, March 26.

Junior League schedule follows: Victoria Lawn vs. Cordova Bay, January 29; Cordova Bay vs. Brentwood, February 12; Brentwood vs. Victoria Lawn, February 19; Cordova Bay vs. Victoria Lawn, February 26; Brentwood vs. Cordova Bay, March 12; Victoria Lawn vs. Brentwood, March 26.

Giardello Meets Andrews Tonight

NORFOLK, Va., (BUP)—Joey Giardello of Philadelphia had a three-pound weight advantage over Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., today at the weigh-in for tonight's 10-round middleweight bout. Giardello scaled 162 pounds, Andrews 159.

SKI HEIL

Everybody's doing it—skiing, that is! Mount Brenton's slopes were alive with enthusiastic skiers this past weekend—and even Saturday's weather didn't dampen the Sno-Birds' spirits.

Twenty members, both juniors and seniors, hiked into the Mount Brenton cabin Saturday morning, afternoon and night and it was a case of the early Sno-Bird getting dried out first. New arrivals were progressively wetter—and there is an unconfirmed rum-

The Victoria club got an unexpected break this year when renovations to the Vancouver rink resulted in the big tournament being shifted to Victoria.

The provincial titles were at stake here last year in one of the biggest and most exciting shuttle events in the history of the city.

The week-long tourney gets under way at the Amphion Street courts Monday night and runs through the week—with semifinals Friday night and finals Saturday.

While this year's tournament will lack the excitement engendered last year by the participation of world champions Eddie and David Choong of Malaya, there are indications that the meet will attract all the best local stars and the cream of Vancouver's rich shuttle crop.

Eddie Choong, world singles champ, will not be on hand to defend his B.C. title but there is expected to be a rush to succeed him.

FAVORED

Given the inside track to the title is polished Dave McTaggart of Vancouver, who won the title three years ago when he scored a tremendous upset over former Canadian champion Daryl Thompson. Thompson, always a hard man to beat in championship play, could give McTaggart a rough time as could Bruce Benham or Bill Fergus of Vancouver.

Lois Reid, a former Canadian champion and reigning B.C. titleist, will be the lone crowd favorite making a defense. Calgary's Jean Waring, who went to the Canadian semifinals last year, is the biggest threat to Miss Reid's championship, and Maureen Ray, present city champ, is given an excellent chance.

Argos Reveal U.S. Imports

TORONTO (BUP)—The Toronto Argonauts Tuesday introduced Bill Albright from the New York Giants and Gil Mains from the Detroit Lions as two of the eight 1955 imports whom they refuse to give back to the U.S. pro league.

Team director Harry Sonshine, who introduced the pair to the press, said, "there will be more imports announced shortly," confirming the Argos' refusal to back down on their policy of signing U.S. stars.

Sno-Birds Get U.S. Invite

Highlights will be a giant slalom race, an exhibition jump, and an exhibition instructors' race. This last, they say, is all in fun. And it should be fun to watch, with top-notch ski instructors displaying their best form in competition.

Those wishing to participate please contact secretary Barbara Davies as soon as possible, at 3-6463.

Transportation arrangements for this coming weekend to Mount Brenton will be handled, as usual, by Audrey Emery, at 2-9083.

NHL PRESIDENT CRACKS DOWN

Lindsay Draws 10-Day Ban

By The Canadian Press

Theodore Lindsay, who has hockey's second-worst temper, can't stand grabby fans. And the National Hockey League says it can't stand players who fight with the customers.

Thus it was that Terrible Ted was given a 10-day suspension for a rinkside scuffle with a fan.

The 29-year-old leftwinger with Detroit Red Wings, who is having one of the poorest seasons of his big-league career, was suspended Tuesday night by league president Clarence Campbell. It came four days after Lindsay struck a spectator with his stick.

The blow also hurt the second-place Wings. They are fighting to regain the league leadership from Montreal Canadiens and need Ted's services badly.

Campbell ordered the sentence after a Detroit meeting of club officials, players and officials who handled the game in Toronto last Saturday.

He added that the Red Wings promised to take disciplinary action against Lindsay after two similar incidents but "obviously the steps taken by the club did not produce the desired results."

TED LINDSAY... suspended

Lindsay got into the fracas after the fan, sitting in a rail seat, grabbed at the stick of Detroit's Gordie Howe, Lindsay's linemate. The fan, Campbell said, told game officials he touched the stick to prevent it from striking his small son.

Lindsay is one of the most penalized players in the business. Since 1944, he has run up more than 900 minutes in the penalty box. That's more than the total for the same period registered by Montreal's Maurice Richard, a fellow with probably the worst temper in the NHL.

The Wings won't have to worry about anything tonight. Only one game is scheduled, with Canadiens taking on the third-place Maple Leafs at Toronto.

The Montrealers could move four points ahead of the Wings with a victory. They have 28 wins and seven ties in 47 games for a total of 63 points. Leafs are nine points behind.

Saxton Must Defend

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Chairman Frank Wiener of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission said Tuesday night the state would consider welterweight champion Johnny Saxton's title vacant unless Saxton defends it next against Carmen Basilio, No. 1 contender from Syracuse, N.Y. Saxton won his title in a much-discussed decision over Kid Gavilan here last October.

Quakers Get Houghton

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Canucks, cutting down to the Western Hockey League 15-player limit, Tuesday sent defenseman Mid Houghton to Saskatoon Quakers.

Furgol to Compete

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Furgol, lame-armed U.S. open golf champion, announced on Tuesday he plans to compete in the British open golf championship at St. Andrews July 4-8.

Valdez Scores Key

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP)—Nino Valdes, No. 1 heavy-weight contender, knocked out Jack Flood of Spokane, Wash., in 2:37 of the seventh round of a scheduled 10-rounder here on Tuesday night. Valdes weighed 212 and Flood 204.

Joe Faces Tax Lien

CHICAGO (AP)—The government filed a tax lien against former heavyweight champion Joe Louis Tuesday for $33,619 it claims is due in income taxes in 1951. The lien was filed in the court of Cook county, where Louis owns property.

Turn About

VANCOUVER (CP)—A request by Pentleton Vs hockey club for financial aid for their forthcoming trip to the world championships, was turned down Tuesday by Vancouver city council. In rejecting the plea, acting mayor Bill Orr remarked the city of Pentleton had not made a donation to the British Empire Games fund here last summer.

Baldwin Wins

SASKATOON (CP)—Matt Baldwin of Edmonton, Canadian curling champion, scored his fourth straight victory Tuesday night in Saskatoon's annual bonspiel, to remain among the favorites in both the open events.

GOLF MEETING

TORONTO (BUP)—The Royal Canadian Golf Association will hold its annual meeting in Montreal Feb. 19, secretary-treasurer W. T. Hamilton announced today.

Walls Still Fifth In Latest Ring List

NEW YORK (CP)—Canada's Earl Walls helped shuffle the heavyweight boxing rankings when he dethroned New York's Jimmy Slade. But he wasn't able to improve his own position.

The Canadian heavyweight champion, who defeated Slade in a close fight in Toronto recently, remains as the fifth-ranking challenger for Rocky Marciano's crown in the Ring magazine ratings released today.

Slade dropped to 10th from seventh. Rex Layne of Lewis ton, Utah, climbed to seventh from ninth and Charley Norcross of Port Washington, N.Y., advanced one peg to ninth.

Nino Valdes of Cuba still is Rocky's No. 1 challenger. England's Don Cockell is next, followed by former champion Ezzard Charles and Bob Baker of Pittsburgh. Heinz Neuhaus of Germany is ranked sixth.

Joey Maxim is back in his old familiar place as No. 1 challenger to light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore. Maxim, the former champ, handled Paul Andrews with ease in November and just naturally moved up when Andrews knocked off Boardwalk Bill Smith.

Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J., continued to move toward the top of the welter class with a promotion from sixth to fourth place after whipping Al Andrews. Kid Gavilan and Ramon Fuentes are between Vince and champion Johnny Saxton. Jimmy Carter, the light-weight champ, and Paddy DeMarco, former champ, still are rated in that order in the 135-pound division.

Island Hockey League FRIDAY 7.30 p.m. MEMORIAL ARENA

Stamps Aid Cats; Royals Play Here

Canucks Beaten; Flyers Win

Calgary 3, Vancouver 1
Edmonton 1, Saskatoon 0

Things are back to normal in the Western Hockey League for the moment at least.

For a while it appeared that Vancouver Canucks and Saskatoon Quakers were about to make the leading clubs look to their laurels.

But Tuesday night the regular pattern was recognizable once more.

The Calgary Stampers tripped up the Canucks, 3-1, while the league leading Edmonton Flyers blanked the Quakers, 1-0.

Edmonton's shutout was its second in two games, goalie Glen Hall doing the honors, while Vancouver's defeat enabled Victoria's Cougars to put more daylight between themselves and the Canucks when they meet the Royals here tonight.

Bidding for a fourth-place spot, the Canucks who lost ground Tuesday, meet Edmonton tonight at the oil city.

The Cougars host the Royals at Memorial Arena and with a victory would make the Canucks' task that much more difficult and, at the same time, put the locals in a contending position for third place once again.

In Calgary, Doc Couture scored his 200th goal in professional hockey and Sid Finney sank two other markers to down Canucks. Stamps ended a three-game losing streak in the process and moved to within one point of second-place New Westminster.

ROOKIE RETURNS

Bill Ezicknick, making his first appearance in Calgary since joining the Canucks, and ending a layoff due to an injury, scored Vancouver's only goal.

DEFENCEMEN SCORES

Defencemen Gordon Stratte, picked up from the Edmonton Junior Oil Kings to bolster the injury-riddled Flyers' defense corps, scored the only goal with a drive from the blue line.

Flyers played without the services of centre Bronco Horvath, the league's leading scorer, defenceman Hugh Coffin and Steve Hyrmanak.

FONTINATO MOVES UP; QUAKERS GET EVANS

SASKATOON (CP)—Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Hockey League announced today that defenceman Lou Fontinato will go to New York Rangers of the National Hockey League on loan and in return Quakers will receive defenceman Jack Evans.

Fontinato is to join Rangers at Detroit Thursday night and Evans will report here the same night for the WHL game against Vancouver Canucks.

The Quakers also announced they will receive another player besides Evans from New York. The player will join them before the WHL cutoff date Feb. 20.

Big Prize List For City 'Spiel

Between 60 and 70 rinks will be gunning for over $1,500-worth of merchandise prizes next week in the third annual Victoria Curling Club Bonspiel, running from Monday to Saturday.

Entries received so far number 44 and are expected to hit over 60 before the entrance deadline, Friday.

The sparkling galaxy of prizes includes silverware sets, carving sets, clocks, lamps, luggage, blankets, sweaters, brief cases, rugs, clocks, electric coffee percolators, razors, food mixers, pens and hostess chairs.

To accommodate the large crowd of spectators expected during the week-long action, auxiliary bleachers have been installed in the rink, both upstairs and downstairs. Weekly and daily tickets are available at a small charge.

Each rink will be guaranteed six games. Top events are the Dominion Hotel and Colonist challenge trophies; the Eaton and Ker & Stephenson are the secondary events, and the Times and Hudson's Bay are third events.

TOPPING COMING

A number of out-of-town rinks will be doing their best to deprive the local stars of prizes in what should be a keenly contested 'spiel.

Among the visiting rinks will be Dick Topping's smart Oliver quartet, and entries skipped by Bill King of Rosetown, Sask. Ron Harper and Larry Marshall of Duncan, Bill Osborne of Port Alberni, Art Gooder of Vancouver and Brock Wilson of Nanaimo.

Tony Gutoski holds most of the local hopes as do the rinks skipped by Eric Bullock, Bill Dunstan, Eric Smeaton and Max Zabel.

Gisele MacKenzie Hailed as TV Star

NEW YORK (CP)—Gisele MacKenzie, the former St. Boniface, Man., girl who has been a hit vocalist in the United States for several years, has drawn a rave review for her debut as a television comedienne.

"Nothing short of sensational," writes Jack Gould in the New York Times television column of her performance last Sunday night on the Jack Benny show.

"To watch a star made in front of your own eyes is always one of the most exciting experiences: such an event occurred last Sunday . . . when Gisele MacKenzie stepped out from the comparative anonymity of 'Your Hit Parade' and was nothing short of sensational . . ."

Miss MacKenzie, whose real name is Gisele La Fleche, appeared for several years in Canada as a singer, radio vocalist and club entertainer billed as Gisele. When she came to the U.S. her promoters tacked on the new surname. She came into TV prominence as co-featured vocalist on "Your Hit Parade" along with another former Canadian, Dorothy Collins, who comes from Windsor, Ont.

Gould writes that "it's never been a secret that Miss MacKenzie is one of the top-notching popular vocalists and also a young lady of great video-genic charm . . . but what Mr. Benny and the rest of us didn't know was that Miss MacKenzie is also talented in a number of other directions."

She picked up a violin and did a hilarious duet with Benny, accompanied herself on the piano, and "joined in the gentle capers with complete aplomb and assurance."

Bonner Says Sons' Charges Wholly False

Attorney-General Robert Bonner Tuesday sharply criticized leaders of B.C.'s Sons of Freedom sect who charged the RCMP of beating adults and throwing them into the snow in a round-up of 40 Freedomite children last Tuesday.

The Sons of Freedom leaders, in a telegram to Prime Minister St. Laurent, said the RCMP taking part in the raid "showed every sign of intoxication," and threw adult members of the sect into the snow.

"The allegations in the wire are totally untrue," said Mr. Bonner.

"Statements of this kind illustrate the dangerous instability and unreliability of Sons of Freedom leadership."

Oak Bay United Church Reports 500 Membership

With 50 new members added last year, total membership in Oak Bay United Church now tops 500, it was reported Monday to the church's annual congregational meeting. A. R. C. Hebdon reported Sunday school enrollment as about 450.

Nearly $4,000 was raised for missionary and benevolent purposes and over $3,800 for local work including the building of a new hall. Treasurer F. G. Matkin reported that approximately $9,000 would be carried as a debt on the hall.

J. E. L. Dickson, E. G. Emery, H. Lamb and H. O. Zimmer were elected to the session. Stewards elected were J. H. Britton, W. L. Rippon, G. Whelen, J. Douglas Smith, J. Edwards and Mrs. R. H. McDougall.

George Burnell and A. R. C. Hebdon were named trustees and Mrs. J. H. Britton, Mrs. G. Fisher and J. McLennan delegates to presbytery and conference.

Twickenham Seat Retained by Tories

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill's supporters retained a parliamentary seat in a by-election Tuesday at Twickenham, a Conservative stronghold southwest of London.

The result, declared late Tuesday night, was: Roger Gresham Cooke, Conservative, 23,075; Robert Pitman, Labor, 12,953.

The Conservatives have not lost a seat in a by-election since regaining power in the general election in October, 1951.

$5 for Half Hour Legal Advice Plan of B.C. Bar Association

VANCOUVER (CP)—Formation of a panel of experts to give a half-hour of legal advice for $5 is under consideration by the British Columbia section of the Canadian Bar Association.

The B.C. branch is meeting here in mid-winter convention. Known as the "lawyer referral plan," the scheme is designed to aid mid-income groups who, for any reason, steer clear of lawyers when they really need legal advice.

The plan, a project of the Vancouver Bar Association, was outlined by Harold W. Tupper. He said the referral plan would operate this way:

A panel of lawyers would be set up, represented by a secretary of the law society. He would direct the client to the lawyer on the panel who specialized in the field in question. Then an interview would be arranged, costing $5 for half-an-hour.

If the advice given by the Blood Stream Used to Combat Rheumatic, Arthritic Pain; No Pills

Penetrant Dilates Capillaries, Flows Fresh Oxygen-Rich Blood Through Afflicted Areas

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—Discovery of an entirely new method of relieving pain has been announced here. This new method applies, for the first time, a well-known medical principle of pain relief to a product now readily available to Canadians for home use. The discovery literally calls upon the blood stream to bathe away pains of rheumatism, arthritis, sore muscles and joints of most kinds.

Sold under the brand name "InfraRUB," this new cream is odorless and greaseless. InfraRUB has the unusual ability to penetrate the "skin barrier"—go to work to relieve pain deep down in sore muscles and joints. The bloodstream carries the soothing medication right to the site of trouble where it actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure. Users claim almost immediate relief from rheumatism and arthritic pains, sore muscles and joints.

Another feature of this new product that appeals to many people is its ease of application. No long and painful rubbing is necessary as InfraRUB penetrates in a few seconds and vanishes with a moment's light massage.

InfraRUB leaves no oily film or pungent objectionable odour on the skin. Users find they are able to put on clothing in complete safety immediately after application.

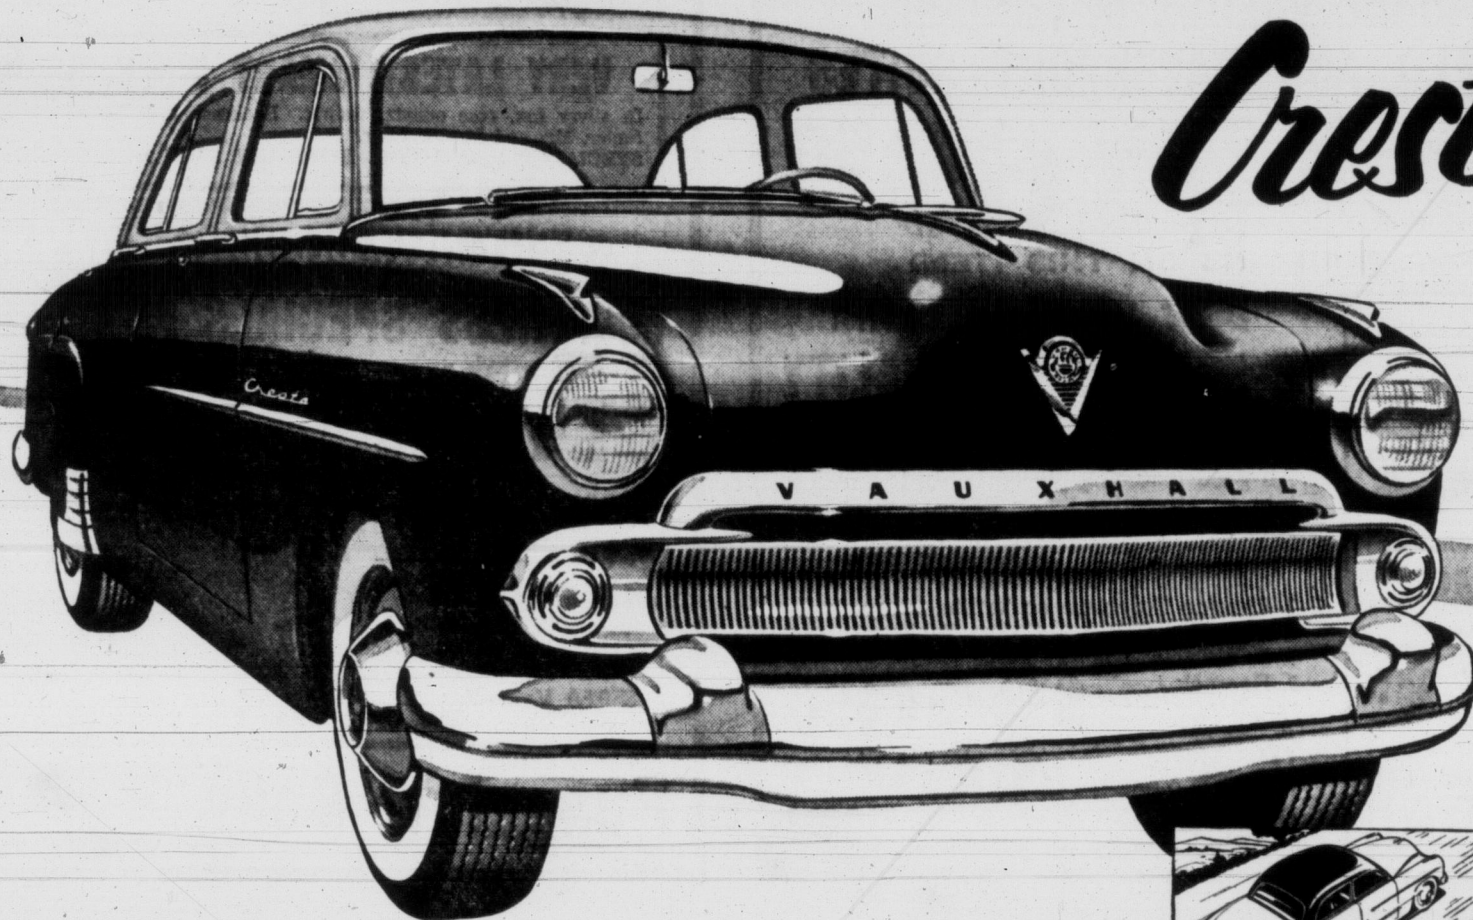

InfraRUB is now sold at all drug counters. No prescription is necessary.

Immediate Planning Urged for Centenary Celebration in '58

By AB KENT

The idea of a province-wide, year-long birthday party to mark B.C.'s 100th anniversary in 1958 was given strong support in Victoria today.

Most of the representative persons contacted agreed

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTÉ ROBERTS

Everyone knows Hippocrates was a Greek physician. But how many know the wording of the Oath of Hippocrates?

After a recent encounter with various medical men, I am in a position to answer, to wit:

The Oath of Hippocrates is, was, and always will be: "Dammit, do I have to take off my clothes AGAIN?"

There used to be a very good joke about two doctors meeting on the street.

One doctor says to the other doctor, "You're fine, how am I?"

This joke, unfortunately, is nothing but a joke, and bears no resemblance to the truth.

The truth is, when two doctors meet on the street, the first doctor says: "Take off your shirt."

And the second doctor says: "Everything but your socks, please."

If you gather from these remarks that I believe the medical profession is un-clothes conscious, you are so right. My recent experiences with these talented gentlemen have convinced me they are all nudists at heart.

Briefly, this is what happened: I wished to find out if I was still breathing, or if I was in hibernation.

So I went to a doctor, and I said, "Doctor . . ."

"Hmmm," he interrupted. "Just step into the back room and take off your clothes."

After the doctor had thumped me and prodded me and made me say "ah," he allowed me to put my clothes back on again.

"How am I doc?" I asked.

So I started to leave, but on the way out, his nurse handed me an agenda which covered most of the departments of Royal Jubilee Hospital.

I went to the hospital, and I went to department A.

"My name is . . ." I started to say, but a white-coated character interrupted.

"Just take off your coat, tie, shirt, shoes, and socks" the character said.

For the sake of brevity, let us compress the events that followed. In various departments—all separated by several hundred yards of corridor—I was asked to take off

(a) my shirt (b) just my coat (c) only roll up your sleeve (d) just your, ah, er, . . .

But why go on? Suffice it to say, I was busier than a premiere danseuse on the four-day burlesque circuit.

To none of which I would enter serious objection, were it not for these factors:

1. In none of the little rooms in which I did my strip-teases was there a peg, hook, nail, coat hanger or anything else on which to deposit shed garments.

2. And they didn't find a darn thing wrong with me.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

R. J. "Bob" Hastings, a retired Dominion Experimental Farm research worker, will address the annual meeting of the Vancouver Island Bulb Growers' Association at the Saanichton Experimental Farm on Friday at 8 p.m. He will speak on "Touring England, Scotland and Western Europe."

More than 60 members of the Victoria Newfoundland Club gathered at the Orange Hall Tuesday evening to attend the club's annual banquet.

Members enjoyed a program of entertainment including films of local parades held in the past year.

Provincial Librarian Willard Ireland announced today a special exhibit of water-colors, depicting scenes in the Revelstoke area, has been arranged in connection with the legislature opening.

The water-colors are by Miss Sophia Atkinson, who trained in England. She has lived in Revelstoke in recent years. The exhibit will be open to the public each morning until the end of March.

Muriel A. Scafe, 615 Hampshire Road, was fined $35 in city police court today on a charge of careless driving.

Court was told she was involved in a two-car accident Jan. 14 on McClure near Blanshard. Damage to the vehicles was $350.

Purchase of a drunkometer by city police is still under study. Following suggestion of city prosecutor Alan Bigelow recently, the commission wrote to manufacturers and found names of those cities now using them. These cities have been polled for information and a complete file is now at hand. Commission at a meeting today laid over the matter until each member has had time to study the information received.

Four city policemen have entered applications for the post of juvenile officer. One of them is Const. Lyle Somers, who has filled the post in a temporary capacity since the resignation of Arthur Rudge last November. Also applying are Constables T. H. Smith, Ian Duncan and Walter W. Calwell.

Police commission referred the letters to Chief John Blackstock today, who pointed out that the four officers would be required to sit for examinations before any appointment would be made.

Alexander Cossette, 1877 Granville, was fined a total of $35 in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to two traffic charges.

He was fined $20 for speeding and $15 for failure to notify the motor vehicles branch of a change in address.

Police said he was paced at 45 miles per hour, Jan. 14, on Burnside.

A gardening film, with commentary by Cecil Solly, was shown Tuesday night to members of the Victoria Sales Executive Club by Austin Goward of B.C. Electric's public relations department.

Further entertainment was provided by the quartet, Betts and Her Buddies.

The club is arranging an appearance Feb. 22 of Cec. Musburger, sales authority from Chicago. He will address a gathering in the Oak Bay Junior High School.

Thursday Meetings

Victoria Rotary Club: Empress Hotel, noon. Speaker, Jack Ledger. Film, "Great Habsburg Collection."

Oak Bay Kiwanis Club: Oak Bay Beach Hotel, 6.15 p.m. Speaker, R. W. Mayhew, "Impressions of Japan."

Optimist Club: Pacific Club, noon. Speaker, A. E. Jones, provincial probation officer, "Juvenile Delinquency."

Vic-Van Isle Kinsmen: McEwen's dining room, 6.45 p.m.

that a centenary celebration should embrace the entire province and carry on over the year, thereby making citizens and visitors alike fully conscious of 1858's historical significance.

And most agreed also that planning should start now. Provincial archivist Willard Ireland suggested the government take the initiative in deciding whether or not there should be such a celebration, adding it would be the logical choice to sponsor and plan province-wide arrangements.

A preliminary planning committee is needed now, he said, and "I don't think the cost of setting one up would be very much at this time."

British Columbia Historical Association which held its annual meeting in Vancouver last week, gave endorsement to the idea of a centenary and will soon urge government adoption, Mr. Ireland said.

"I'm strong for it," said George I. Warren, Victoria and Vancouver Island publicity commissioner.

By planning for a year's events, every section of the province could come in some aspect of the celebration, he said. "For instance Kamloops could hold special events one month, Prince George the next, and so on, so that every part of B.C. would be a participant."

"Three years is little enough time to plan that kind of project," the commissioner said.

Ernest Evans, of the provincial government travel bureau, said a centenary is a "splendid idea."

"It would not only bring people in, but would also have the advantage of making the people of B.C. conscious of their history."

"Victoria and the Cariboo, for example, have historical heritages of capital interest in terms of tourism. "There's so much to be done and so little time left to preserve our natural heritages," he said.

Focal point of the year could be Fort Langley, where on November 19, 1858, Sir James Douglas and Judge Matthew Begbie were sworn as governor and justice of the Crown colony of British Columbia.

The year was also noted for the great gold rush into the Cariboo, one of the prime factors in establishment of the area as a colony.

Sydney G. Pettit, history instructor at Victoria College, and authority on this period in B.C.'s development, said:

"As a citizen of B.C. and as a history instructor, I am highly in favor of the idea of celebrating our 100th anniversary."

Mr. Ireland said he thought November would be a poor date for any special ceremonies at Fort Langley because of the expected wet weather at that time of year.

He believes that if pressure were applied immediately, planners might succeed in getting a commemorative Canadian postage stamp struck by 1958.

As for an early suggestion mooted invitation of royalty to special functions that year, Mr. Ireland was non-committal.

"I view that with mixed feelings," he said. "It depends on what you're going to do. If a program is planned with that sort of thing in mind, then it would be fine."

Four-Year Jail Term For Theft

Sentences Imposed In $1,500 Burglary

Vernon Charles Reid, 32, 1619 Quadra Street, was sentenced to four years in prison when he appeared in city police court today for sentence on a charge of breaking and entering and theft from Northern Electric Co. Ltd., 1950 Blanshard.

Another man, Joseph Fraser, 19, also of 1619 Quadra, was given a six-month sentence by Magistrate H. C. Hall on a charge of retaining in his possession three radios and two electric shavers over $25 value, property of Northern Electric Co. Ltd.

Both had previously pleaded guilty to the charges.

A third man charged in connection with the Jan. 14 burglary of the city electric whole-sale store, Clifford Foot, 3131 Delta Street, pleaded not guilty Monday to a charge of retaining six radios and seven electric shavers over $25 value, property of the electric store.

He will appear in court for trial next Tuesday.

JAMES BAY ARREST

Court was told today Reid and Fraser were arrested Jan. 18 at about 7.50 p.m. on Simcoe Street near Oswego in the James Bay district by four city detectives.

Detective Louis Callan said he and Detectives Alex Briggs, Angus Munro and Norm Bath saw an auto stop on the street and Reid got out.

When Reid saw the detectives he fled. Police gave chase and apprehended him. He had two electric razors in his hands when arrested, which were later identified as part of the $1579 loot taken in the burglary.

They said Fraser was the driver of the car.

In imposing sentence on Fraser, Magistrate Hall said:

"This is your first offense. I am quite satisfied you were dragged into it by Reid, an old offender."

Reid was sentenced to four years in prison.

Milk Control Asked

Island Dairymen Make Submission

A plea for full return to milk control was voiced before a Royal Commission on milk here today.

H. G. Robinson, Saanich, secretary-manager of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association which represents 300 Island milk producers — 80 per cent of total Island producers — said that if the Milk Board had a "free hand" without political interference, "it could have continued its good work" in stabilizing the industry.

"We do not think that anyone anywhere can say we have not earned the right to ask for controls at every level, producer, distributor and consumer," he told commissioners, Mr. Justice J. V. Cline.

CANT HOLD UP

In comparison with the mainland, Island producers had not suffered as greatly from de-control because of solid organization and fair distributors. But if price cutting and chaotic mainland conditions continue "we cannot indefinitely retain our position."

He said both time and money had been spent in getting controls extended "and the government could wipe them out overnight, which they did in October, 1953."

Control at the consumer level was voluntary, but a false step by either a dealer or producer-vendor "and the whole thing will come down with a crash" with the producer taking the hardest tumble.

ASK REPRESENTATION

There should be producer representation on the Milk Board, he said, adding that Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan "is sympathetic to this idea, and we cannot understand why he has failed to act."

Other points raised by Mr. Robinson:

The VIDA was the first organization to protest removal of controls above the producer level; the group has no objections to quotas but believes in fair warning to lay plans accordingly; wartime milk price controls kept milk at least five cents a quart below de-controlled milk; surplus of one area should not be dumped in another area, except under milk board permit.

SHOULD BE BONDED

Further: "We believe that the dairies should be bonded to guarantee to the producer that he will get his price."

Sales can be increased up to 20 per cent on the Island, but a "fair" return was expected. The group will fight any attempt to lower present fluid milk price and is now taking steps to find a new outlet for secondary milk if dealers don't give a more "realistic" price than 56 cents per pound butterfat.

The VIDA sells about $180,000 worth of milk a month.

"So long as other industries, and even the distributing end of our own industry, can offer more money and shorter hours than those in the producing end of the business, we will continue to lose manpower. It could well be that in the not too distant future there will be a shortage of milk in B.C.," he said.

Fine of $20 was imposed on Robert C. Young, 37 Camden Street, today in city police court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding.

Court was told he was clocked at 42 miles per hour Jan. 15 while driving on Douglas Street between Discovery and Field.

Home-Made Car Plates

Now Prison-Farm Product

In early days of motoring in B.C., car owners were required to make own license plates on heavy leather base of oblong shape, with numerals at least six inches high. Licenses were first required in 1904, and relic displayed by Sonia Shusarenko was made in 1906.

It was not until just prior to First World War that government started making own license plates. Miss Shusarenko, 20, and candidate two years ago for title of Miss B.C. Products Fair, has been stenographer at Motor Vehicle Branch for two years. Resident of Victoria for last 10 years, she came here with her family from The Pas, Man., and lives at 816 Linden Avenue.

Slick, 1955 plate is one of 390,000 produced in little plant at Oakalla Prison Farm, Burnaby, that has been making provincial plates since 1925. Manufacture of the 1955 plates began in January of last year, maintained steady pace throughout year, then preparations began for production of 1956 plates. Division of plates is 290,000 passenger, 100,000 commercial. Plates are now available in 80 issuing offices throughout B.C., although the law makes no provision for using plates prior to February. Amendment to Motor Vehicle Act is pending that will permit use of new plates in January of each year. (Strickland Photo.)

Victoria Defense Co-Ordinator To Attend National Conference

A special civil defense conference for provincial co-ordinators will be held in Ottawa starting Feb. 14, and will be attended by Greater Victoria civil defense co-ordinator Roger Peachey and B.C. co-ordinator Maj.-Gen. C. R. Stein.

All aspects of civil defense training and administration will be discussed. Two days will be devoted to consideration of evacuation and dispersal of civilians from a disaster area.

Manpower wastage, amalgamation of services, mobile columns, public education, training and educational services will be among topics considered at the week-long conference.

The problem of evacuation and dispersal will be especially interesting to Mr. Peachey, whose administration faces the problem of evacuating from an area enclosed on three sides by water.

Permission to proceed with evacuation plans should an emergency arise was only recently granted by federal civil defense authorities, partly on complaint of Victoria's mayor to Ottawa.

Police Commission Agrees To Conciliation on Wages

Victoria police commission agreed today to requests for conciliation in wage disputes with both police and janitor-engineers.

Police had asked a 10 per cent wage increase and the commission called for a 5 per cent cut. The engineers asked a $10-a-month boost and payment of half their MSA costs, plus adoption of a system of service pay of 10c a day for every five years.

Only ground gained by the unions was the admission of Commissioner Gordon Carter that he would favor payment of half the engineers' MSA, to put them in line with other civic employees.

A delegation from the Victoria Police Federal Union (VPU) was criticized by Commissioner William Hamilton for applying for a conciliation officer and then coming back to the commission for another meeting. He accused union president Lorne Shandley with making no real attempt to negotiate.

Shandley replied that the police had discussed their action with the Labor Relations

Board and felt that a further meeting could be held without prejudice.

Representatives to the conciliation board were not named by either side in the disputes, nor has any date been revealed.

Stand of the mayor in each wage meeting was unchanged — no increases of any kind. He did compliment police for efficiency after five letters came in from citizens who had been helped by officers. He could not believe that these "very satisfactory" officers were asking more money of their own volition. "Somebody is urging them on," he said.

Suspect Charged In RVYC Break-In

John Martin Howitt, 122 Beacon Avenue, Sidney, was released to Friday without plea when he appeared at a special sitting of Oak Bay court today charged with breaking and entering and theft from Royal Victoria Yacht Club, Cadboro Bay.

The charge involves equipment valued at $268 taken from the yacht club workshop Jan. 3.

Road Workers' Agreement Due March 31

Notice by laborers' local union 1093 that its wage agreement with Road Builders' and Heavy Construction Association comes due March 31 has been given, business agent Earl Allen said today.

About 100 men employed by 10 firms, with headquarters in Vancouver, work on Vancouver Island projects and are members of the local union.

Last year's contract gave laborers the following schedule: road work, $1.40 an hour; drillers, $1.76; powdermen, $1.90; rock foremen, $2.00.

No demand for 1955 has been made by the union.

HOUSE SPEAKERS

Opposition Leader Arnold Webster (CCF) will lead off debate in the B.C. Legislature Thursday.

Liberal Party leader Arthur Laing is the other speaker scheduled.

Douglas Bader Visit Sought

Hopes that Douglas Bader, legless British air ace, will visit Victoria on a two-week visit to Canada were expressed here today by John Norton, vice-president of the Victoria Flying Club.

Mr. Norton was confident that Dr. Arthur B. Nash, club president, and manager David Filby, who were in Ottawa Tuesday night to hear Mr. Bader address the annual dinner of the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs' Association, would endeavor to have the famous fighter pilot visit Victoria.

Bader is scheduled to visit Vancouver.

AT THE STATE BALL

Flowers Give Impression Of Spring in January

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Spring came to Government House Tuesday evening. Not in the gowns of feminine guests attending the state ball but in floral decorations. Especially the planting box arrangements that followed the walls of the great entrance hall at balcony height. They were massed with hundreds of gay nodding daffodils, pink and blue hyacinths, tulips and polyanthus that filled the air with fragrance.

Guests, sitting out or standing in groups before the great fireplace need only to look up . . . and see spring.

Len Acres' nine-piece orchestra played for dancing which commenced at 10 p.m. and continued until 3 a.m. Midnight supper was served buffet style with guests sitting at small tables in the ballroom, on the balcony and in the downstairs games room.

The formal elegance of Mrs. Wallace's gown set the liet motif for the evening. It was of silver brocade with an underglow of bluish pink. The lines of the gown featured the new long torso effect with skirt fullness drawn to the back and extending into a train. The brocade presented a rose design with many of the flowers raised to show under petals lined in pink and silver. These roses appeared in an applique at the left shoulder. Mrs. Wallace wore her diamond tiara and necklace.

Sea-mist grey lace was the choice of Miss Ruth MacLean, with a wide grey chiffon sash. Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett, wife of the premier, wore a gown of muslin de sole in lake grey, the flared skirt delicately embroidered from waist to knee-line with cut seed beads. Bodice of the gown was formed of bias pleats with V-shaped embroidered front and wide bias pleated straps over the shoulders. Her necklace and earrings were silver filigree and her corsage, white gardenias.

Silver and White, Champagne and Gold

Mrs. B. Russell Ker was in white, the straight-fronted skirt heavily embroidered in silver beads and the modified bustle back of heavy white corded tulle. Mrs. Byron Johnson wore champagne chiffon over tulle, the bodice richly beaded in golden tones.

A deep madonna blue silk brocade gown was worn by Mrs. Eric W. Hamber, cross-draped on the bodice and sweeping from one shoulder across the front to the hemline was a panel of silk brocade embroidered in seed pearls and sequins. Striking with her white hair and erect carriage was Mrs. J. W. deB. Farris' formal gown of liberty black silk with frosted overglow and long turquoise velvet panel from the shoulder giving rich contrast.

Mrs. F. Ronald Graham wore a French brocade lame, the skirt full and the shoulders winged in elegant effect.

Mrs. Robert Bonner wore a ball gown of white nylon net over satin, sprinkled with rhinestones. The bodice was strapless, and the bouffant skirt was in three tiers edged with lace. She wore rhinestone jewelry and an orchid corsage.

An English import of royal semble with tiara and diamante jewelry.

The Beaded Effect Popular in Gowns

Sheer silk in pale blue was chosen by Mrs. Harold Hubbard, with bead-embroidered satin at the waistline. Mrs. R. J. Wride chose grey tulle styled on princess lines and beaded with gold and pearls. The skirt flared out at the hemline.

Mrs. G. R. Peakes chose a gown of blue and silver French brocade with flaring skirt and small matching bolero. Her jewelry was an aquamarine pendant and brilliant earrings. Mrs. Claude Harrison was gowned in black tulle with heirloom lace stole and cameo necklace and earrings. She carried a red fan.

A gown of pale blue and silver brocade styled on princess lines with fullness at the back and V neckline was chosen by Mrs. P. A. Gibbs, whose jewelry was rhinestones. Mrs. Herbert Bruch attended the ball in a floor-length gown of blue brocade complemented with blue rhinestone jewelry.

Mrs. Gordon Cameron wore a model gown of ice blue silk net with all-over design in silver thread, styled with round-off-the-shoulder neckline and form-fitting to flare at the knee-line. Rhinestone jewelry complemented her costume.

Mrs. John A. Charles chose a classic gown of turquoise brocade, styled with square neckline and very full skirt.

A model gown of cream brocade satin styled with halter neckline and slim skirt was worn by Mrs. Larry Henderson. A train of the same material fell from the softly draped bodice. She completed her en-gown with a slash of cerise at the bodice continuing to form a large bow at the back. Glitter of rhinestone jewelry enhanced the décolletage.

Electric blue chiffon over cerise net forms the charming gown which is the choice of Mrs. Ralph Chetwynd. With it she wore diamond and pearl jewelry.

Mrs. R. E. Sommers was in champagne toned brocade with halter neck of transparent velvet, extremely full sweeping skirt and jewelry repeating and accenting the warm golden tones.

One of the most outstanding gowns at the State Ball was that of Miss Marie Foley, Vancouver, at left. An import, it was of delicate lavender tulle, patterned in a grape design in deep purple sequins. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Price of Victoria are at the right, the latter wearing a striking black gown.

Young Reporter Writes Impressions of Opening

By TERRY FRENCH

Well, I've been to my first House opening. I've sat in a preferred seat in Mr. Speaker's gallery. . . I've watched the gorgeously dressed feminine guests and their equally well-apparalled male escorts, stream onto the floor of the House . . . which I always thought was sacred and reserved for the business of this province . . . and I jumped right out of my seat when the first boom of that 19-gun salute crashed out . . . even if it was more or less muted by distance. Why didn't someone tell me that guns go off at the opening of the Legislature?

I'm going to confess, too . . . that I did something entirely wrong. I stood up with the rest of the guests when someone shouted "Make way for Mr. Speaker." Jumped to my feet and threw my shoulders back . . . and held my head up. After all, I was a cub reporter . . . I wasn't going to let any one there get ahead of me.

But it seems . . . if I'm to believe what my boss tells me this morning (wouldn't it just be this morning) that cub reporters don't stand up in the Legislative Chamber. In fact, no member of the Fourth Estate stands up.

It's a tradition or something. Goes a long way back into the dark ages. That's why the press gallery is perched midway between earth and heaven. It's to give the impression that no working reporter is in the gallery. Men or women they are just not there.

Funny sort of business I'd say. Anyway, I don't stand up again, I can tell you.

I spotted all sorts of things from my elevated perch! You know, it seemed to me that the seething mass below me looked just like a child's paintbox. There were colors speckled and splashed in every corner, and the men were no less colorful than the women. . . You should have seen those academic gowns. Granted, they were black, but some had vivid red collars, others shining silver filigree designs. They all looked so majestic that you would think that the whole goings-on was a movie or something.

Afraid Her Pencil Would Drop

Having taken in all the interesting dabs of humanity below me, I settled back to enjoy the ceremony. But not for long. . . I was directly above the dias, and in order to see, I had to lean forward in my seat and peek over the edge of the railing. . . Not too comfortable a position, I might add, but at least it was better than nothing. Sitting there, I had one thought—wouldn't it be terrible if I dropped my pencil or gloves or something right down by Mr. Speaker's chair? I don't know how I wrote my notes, I held the pencil so tightly! By the time we reached the part of the program which read "House Rising", (no, it isn't some kind of party!) everyone had established where their friends were sitting, and what they were wearing. The House adjourned, and we all teemed towards the Golden Gates. Since I hadn't entered by these gates, I made a point of passing through them when I left . . . just for the book, you know.

Feeling very important, I strolled across the Legislative grounds with my boss to the Empress Hotel for a reception tea. A doorman ushered us in and we headed for the Crystal Ballroom with many others. I truly felt sorry for members in the receiving lines . . . they must have stood there for hours shaking people's hands. Youngest member was little Miss Bonner, daughter of the Attorney-General. She was a smiling picture as she shook hand after hand, and she can't be any more than eight or nine years old!

Once in the ballroom, I made the very bad mistake of taking my eyes off my boss. . . I didn't see her again for an hour! But I had fun . . . and a good cup of tea.

Well-known lumber tycoon, H. R. McMillan sits out with Mrs. W. H. Hatfield, of Vancouver. All around the edge of the ballroom were comfortable chairs and couches for those who wished to watch the dancing or to talk.

Newly Married Couple To Live in France

White chrysanthemums formed the floral background for the recent wedding of Dorothy Jacqueline Mary, daughter of Lieut. Cmdr. (S) and Mrs. W. Woodward, Toronto, Ont., and James Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Peirson, Doncaster Drive, Victoria.

The bride entered St. John's Anglican Church on the arm of her father. She wore a white ballerina-length gown of net and lace, styled with a full billowing skirt and fitted bodice, topped with a lace bolero featuring three-quarter length sleeves. A short veil fell gracefully to her shoulders. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a three-strand pearl necklace and matching pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Canon Biddle officiated at the ceremony. Traditional organ music was played.

Mrs. Beatrice Buchanan, matron of honor, wore a pale blue net gown with matching headband and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and stephanotis. Stewart McIntosh was best man and the ushers, Brian Kilpatrick and Ivan Earnshaw.

A wedding reception was held in the Strathcona Hotel where Mrs. Woodward, in a navy tissue faille two-piece dress, rose-colored fur felt hat, navy accessories and corsage of red roses, and Mrs. Peirson in a soft blue gown with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses, assisted in receiving guests.

The bride's table was centred with an all-white wedding cake topped with bells and doves flanked by pink carnations. The traditional toast was proposed by W. Buchanan, the bride's uncle.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Get Lots of Vitamin C; Serves Many Purposes

As more and more is learned about the role of vitamin C in health, an adequate daily intake becomes increasingly important. Yet many persons are quite lax in this matter.

This vitamin is widely distributed through our foods but in such small quantities in most instances that you may not be getting nearly enough for best health. Many people feel that a green salad, cooked vegetables and a small glass of orange juice at breakfast take care of the situation.

It is true that this will prevent scurvy but you may not be getting as much as you require for best health. Doctor George E. Morris, assistant clinical professor of dermatology, Tufts Medical College, Boston, reports that he has observed frank or latent scurvy in 5.45 per cent of the total patients he has seen. Orange juice is the most reliable source of vitamin C. If you prefer frozen orange juice, by all means use it. It retains about 98 per cent of its vitamin C content which makes it comparable to fresh juice. Do not leave the juice in an open jar or can.

Lack of vitamin C has been correlated with chronic fatigue, abnormal bruising and bleeding gums, and has been used with happy results in the treatment of arthritis and pimples. People suffering with multiple sclerosis who were treated with large doses of this vitamin showed enough improvement to spur further investigation.

As folks grow older, the vitamin C level in their blood seems to drop. This may be due to the diet they eat or to losses which occur in cooking. At any rate we should all be certain that our diet provides enough of this valuable vitamin and we should be especially careful about this from middle age on.

Mothers of teen-age children should be sure that their offspring get enough of the citrus fruits or fruit juices. At this age when the diet of young men and women cannot be so easily controlled they are apt to omit orange juice for soft drinks. In fact, surveys have shown that this age group is one in which vitamin C deficiency frequently occurs.

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by The New Yorker (Mother of 5)

Frequent queries come to this column for information on the feeding of infants. Here are a few "tried and true" rules that may prove helpful to new mothers.

1. Make formula accurately. It is your doctor's recipe for meeting your baby's individual needs.
2. When heating bottle for feeding, test temperature of formula on wrist. If it feels comfortable (not hot), it's right for baby.
3. Always hold baby for feeding. It makes him feel wanted and secure.
4. Hold baby as upright as is possible for comfort, since he is less apt to swallow air in this position.
5. Allow plenty of time for each bottle. 20 to 30 minutes is about average.

Strong point. More and more doctors are recommending meat early in the infant diet, for the complete proteins that aid growth, build all body structures. Gerber's protein-rich Strained Meats are ideal. Made from selected juicy cuts, they're 100% meat, with just enough broth to give the smooth, nice-on-the-tongue texture little ones like. Processed for minimum fat and fiber, they're easy as milk to digest... have the true-meat flavors babies find appealing. Your choice of 6.

Cupboard clue. Short of storage space? Have had build narrow shelves on the inside of your kitchen cupboard doors. Swell for storing baby foods, spice jars.

Different, delicious, nutritious... special egg yolks prepared by specialists. Gerber's creamy Strained Egg Yolks have a wonderful custard-like consistency... a delicate fresh-egg flavor. Rich in vitamin A and iron, they're also a good supplementary source of protein. Gerber's Egg Yolks are heat-sterilized for baby's protection and laboratory-tested for purity. 2 tablespoons equal 1 yolk. Gerber-Ogilvie Baby Foods, Limited, Niagara Falls, Canada.

Child Embarrassed By Different Name

By ELIZABETH HURLOCK, PhD

It is always embarrassing to a child to have a name that is different from his mother's. A man writes:

Hurlock

(Q)—Four years ago, I married a divorced woman with a daughter six years old. I was divorced too and have two children. I support them and my first wife. My present wife's first husband contributes nothing for the support of his child. For the past year my wife has been urging me to adopt her daughter legally, because she says it is embarrassing to the child to have a different name. I contend that if I do, her former husband will never do anything for the child. Then too, I feel that any money or property I may have when I die should go to my own children and that it would be unfair to them to have my second wife's daughter by another marriage inherit anything from me. Am I being selfish about this matter?

(A)—I can readily appreciate how important it is to the child to have the same surname as her mother. Each year, as she grows older, it will be more and more embarrassing to her to have a different name.

However, I can also see your point of view. Naturally you feel that your first responsibility should be to your own children. So long as this child's own father is alive, he should be supporting her, even if her mother has remarried.

Before making any decision about the matter of adoption, I suggest that you consult a lawyer. Find out if some financial support cannot be obtained from the child's father.

Then ask your lawyer what can be done to assure your children of getting anything you may leave when you die. Should you adopt your wife's daughter. Each state has its laws about inheritance. Unless you have a large estate, your own children may come out at the little end of the horn unless you take steps to safeguard their interests.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problem." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

Misses Pat and Gerrie Michael were co-hostesses at their Palmer Road home Tuesday evening at a shower given in honor of their future sister-in-law, Miss Shirley Louise McGregor, for whom they will be bridesmaids. Polio Drug to Fight 'Killer' Incidence

$1 Million Needed to Distribute New Vaccine; $300,000 Victoria Objective

Polio will kill six out of every 100 cases diagnosed this year in British Columbia.

That is the figure scientists and statisticians estimate on the basis of the toll in other years.

In 1955 it is the hope of the B.C. Polio Fund and the provincial government that the entire population may be given a revolutionary anti-polio vaccine with which tests are now being conducted.

Since polio is a communicable disease, inoculation will reduce the incidence of the dread polio virus, and lessen the chances that 6 per cent of British Columbians diagnosed as having polio will die of it.

To assist in successful completion of this ambitious project involving 1,266,000 people, more than $1,000,000 will be required by health authorities. The B.C. Polio Fund, operated by Kinsmen clubs throughout the province, hopes to obtain by public subscription $300,000 of this amount.

Locally, their campaign, culminated by the "Mothers' March of Polio," is being conducted under guidance of the Vic-Van Isle Kinsmen Club. The Mothers' March will take place on the night of Feb. 19.

In 1954, canvassing mothers collected nearly $250,000 in their blitz campaign, which went toward purchase of iron lungs, portable respirators and other equipment needed to treat and rehabilitate B.C. polio victims.

Polio is a disease which may strike anyone, contrary to the belief of a few years ago that it was largely a children's affliction.

Limited Enrolment For Universities?

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, suggested in his annual report released here that Canadian universities may have to limit enrollment if they are to meet the impending crisis of increasing applications.

He said warnings about the crisis appear yearly but nothing as yet has been done to forestall "a very serious dilemma."

The problem is one of educating twice as many young Canadians as are educated now, he added, and any action taken, even though labelled temporary,

"will probably establish the educational pattern for at least the next generation."

"There is still time for experiment and wise decision. If something is done now, a feasible, far-sighted plan can be put into effect. If nothing is done for several years there will be no time for anything better than makeshift expedients."

Dr. Smith said in a mood of self-preservation, or preservation of the integrity and effectiveness of their work, several Ontario universities have resolved to limit enrollment.

"We must be aware of the danger of academic elephantiasis," he continued. "The cultural heritage does not lend itself to assembly-line transmission."

Better Reading Methods Outlined To Kiwanis Club

How to increase reading efficiency and the methods employed by optometrists in doing so were explained to members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel Tuesday.

Kiwanian Norman Johnson, himself an optometrist and a keen believer in modern methods of reading-training, described the methods used to increase reading speeds and comprehension of patients.

"Basically," he said, "vision and intelligence are synonymous."

"Vision is learned from birth, and can be improved by training."

"By employing modern training methods people can increase their reading power two or three-fold. Experiments have shown that a person can increase from an average reading speed of 200-300 words a minute to as much as 900 or even 1,200 words per minute."

Mr. Johnson demonstrated his talk with a demonstration of one of the devices used by optometrists to study reading speeds.

Winter Flowering Plants Reward Care Given Now

What should be done with the various winter flowering plants when they have given us the best of their beauty? As with members of your home, they all require different care, and show their appreciation for it. Azaleas grown in pots should have each flower removed complete with its tiny seed pod. Cut back any untidy growth to make the plant shapely. Do no further pruning. Repotting should be done after it has been thoroughly scrubbed out and in, and surface dried. Shake off all loose soil from the roots, and repot with mixture of compost with leaf mold or peat moss. Keep out of bright sun for a few days, water moderately until new growth begins. Cyclamens are usually allowed to dry off gradually after the flowers fade, and remain dormant until early September. This week, however, I had a letter from a lady, who is a long-time patient in one of our hospitals, telling the story of one cyclamen in her care which has flowered continuously for more than a year! Not just an odd bloom, but always a fine showing of eight to twelve. Leaves also remained in a healthy condition.

This one plant would appear to be an exception, since none of the others had responded similarly. Recommended treatment is still to rest the plant from about February to fall. Billbergia, a tropical plant easily grown in any sunny house window, flowers during January and February. The hanging clusters of bloom attract much attention by merit of the combination of blue-edged green petals, and long bright rose spathes or flower sheaths.

After flowering, it should be moved into a size larger pot, kept well watered all summer in the sunniest window.

Trade License Revision Plan In Saanich

Saanich plans to revise its trade license by-laws next year. Roy Wootten, municipal license inspector, told Saanich Council Monday the present by-laws were not fair for some people carrying on businesses in the municipality and there was a need for adjustments.

As an example, he pointed a large retail grocer is only paying $10 for a license, while a small wholesaler dealing in delicatessens was charged $100 a year. The license charge for wholesalers, he explained, was higher than for retail businesses.

City Policemen Ask Conciliation

Application for a conciliation officer to act in deadlocked wage negotiations with city police commission was made Tuesday by Victoria Police Union.

Main union demand is a 10 per cent wage increase to bring city salaries in line with Vancouver.

Commission members said they favored a 5 per cent reduction.

National Gallery Curator in City

Dr. Robert H. Hubbard, 38-year-old curator of Canada's National Gallery, at Ottawa, is visiting here.

The bespectacled doctor says that no longer is there a fight between traditionalists in art and the so-called modernists. "It's co-existence," he said.

Here on his first trip west of Winnipeg, he is giving a series of lectures in Vancouver on characteristics of Canadian painting.

The present surrealistic abstract trend had its current sensations in international salons, but it was difficult to say if any could lay claim to a permanent rating, he said.

While in Victoria he visited the Arts Centre and met curator Colin Graham.

He leaves Vancouver for Ottawa Sunday.

Lawsuit on Land Easement

Claiming that William Walker, 923 Esquimalt Road, never told them he was selling them land which included an easement to the B.C. Electric Co. for the erection of power poles, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coates, Langford, claimed $1,027 for breach of contract in a Supreme Court civil suit today.

The plaintiffs also name Charles G. Callin, a notary public and former real estate agent, and the Land Registry as defendants in the civil suit.

It is claimed by the plaintiffs that Mr. Callin withdrew the sale agreement from Land Registry and inserted the easement to the B.C. Electric. The Land Registry should never have allowed the sale agreement to be taken out, they stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Coates said when they settled on their land at Langford, they found that the B.C. Electric Co. had erected poles on their property.

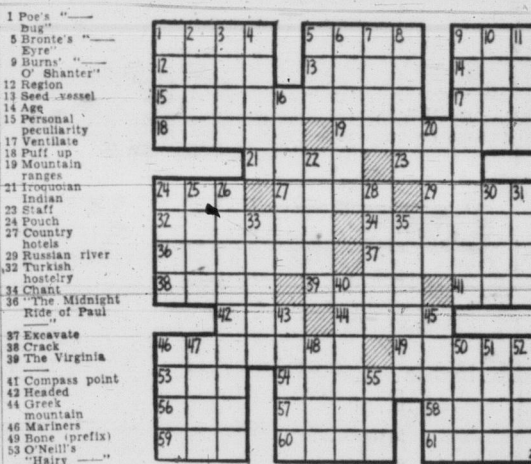

The company was prepared to remove them if they would

Park Chief Claims Street Trees Damaged

Damage to Victoria's flowering street trees has been brought to attention of school principals by the city parks department this week. They have been asked to speak to students about vandalism.

Park administrator W. H. Warren said damage to 22 flowering cherry trees on Moss Street last year cost the city $330.

They were replaced last week and already one of the new trees has been destroyed.

British Fireplaces On Way Out?

LONDON (Reuters) — The British government announced Tuesday approval in principle of an anti-smog program which would mean the end of England's traditional and beloved open fireplace.

The program was set forth two months ago by a government committee which studied ways of thinning the thick blankets of smoke and fog that blot out the sun over English cities.

Instead of the honey fireplace, which pours smoke from its soft coal out of the chimney in thick black clouds, British householders will have to install gas or electric heaters.

The government committee, was set up two years ago after a four-day London smog was blamed for about 4,000 deaths.

Famed Guest Artist With Schubert Club

Victoria's popular Schubert Club will feature a guest artist with an international reputation at their spring concert, which will take place February 2 at Victoria High School.

Brilliant and fiery pianist of Budapest-born Aladar Ecsedy, will be heard in several selections, including Toccata and Fugue by J. S. Bach and the Mephisto Valse by Liszt.

Mr. Ecsedy received his first Artist's Diploma at the Franz Liszt Academy of Music in Budapest and later studied in the Sibelius Academy at Helsinki. He has appeared with major symphony orchestras and on radio as well as in recital all over Europe and has received glowing press commentary there and in the United States.

"... a man who has technique at his finger-tips, but is able to subordinate it in the essential job of giving the interpretive essence of a piece" commented the Winnipeg Free Press. Critic of the Dayton, Ohio, Journal Herald, remarked that he had not "... heard such brilliance and keyboard excitement since Horowitz."

Vera Barclay will conduct the Schubert Ladies' Choir in two groups of classic and modern compositions and will be heard herself, in an operatic aria. Tickets for the event are obtainable from members or on the main floor of the Hodges Bay Company store.

JOHN EMERSON

Symphony Ball Set for Feb. 11

Entertainment at the Symphony Ball in the Empress Hotel, Feb. 11, will be led by John Emerson, CBC pianist, who will be assisted by pretty Pat Kirkpatrick of CBC-TV.

A sit-down supper and floor show is scheduled in the main dining room with dancing in the Crystal Ballroom, the Tex Lounge serving as a cocktail lounge for the occasion.

Members of the Victoria Symphony Women's Committee are now selling tickets for the ball, whose proceeds are earmarked for the orchestra's deficit.

Hospitals to Get Discount on Butter

EDMONTON (CP)—The federal government plans to unload some of its surplus butter by selling it to Canadian institutions at a price "considerably lower" than it paid for the commodity, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Tuesday.

Addressing the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, he said he hoped to find the plan in operation when he returns to Ottawa Thursday.

He did not elaborate. But Robert McCubbin, parliamentary assistant to Mr. Gardiner, said in Ottawa it is expected civilian and military hospitals

Damage to the ship was said to be light, according to company spokesmen. Five daily scheduled runs have been canceled until further notice because of the mishap. Service is being maintained by Princess of Nanaimo, sailing its regular schedule.

U.S. Lobbyists Fight Canadian Gas Deals

WASHINGTON (BUP)—Coal, rail and labor lobbyists have launched an all-out campaign to kill Canada's expanding natural gas exports to the U.S.

The lobbyists are training their guns on the new congress and on the federal power commission, which rules on applications for export of gas from Canada.

"It's ruining our industry," a National Coal Association spokesman said.

So far, deals have been made for the annual purchase of $20,000,000 worth of natural gas from Canada, but most still have to get the green light from the FCC.

TODAY'S MARKET SUMMARIES

Industrials Draw Toronto Interest

The stock market bounded ahead in many high-priced issues but uranium and other lower-priced mines were hit by profit-taking.

Industrials showed the greatest gains in more than two weeks with steel leading the advance.

Papers, utilities, refining oils and manufacturers gained.

General Dynamics was ahead $4 to $91 at 2 p.m. Gains of $1 or more went to International Paper, Foundation, Westons, Walker, Canadian Tire and Hinde and Dauch.

Western oils, strong in morning trade, fell off but losses in individual issues were 15 cents or less.

Base metals continued strong with International Nickel hitting a 1954-55 high of $58. Uranium fell generally after recent sharp gains. Consolidated Denison was off 35 cents, Faraday 26, Ontario 25 and Algom 50c.

Most golds eased but Tech-Hughes was up 25 cents.

NEW YORK

Steels romped ahead with a great burst of strength inspired by a dividend boost for U.S. Steel plus a stock-split proposal.

Aircrafts and many defense industries joined in the rush upward. The rest of the market was higher but in a more modest manner.

Some steels reached out for a maximum gain of around 9 points, and advances of 2 to 4 points were frequent in that division and in aircrafts. Elsewhere, the rise seldom passed a point.

Among higher Canadian stocks were International Nickel, up one point, Hiram Walker & Co., and Canadian Pacific 3/4. Distillers and Seagram were off 1/4.

Canadian issues on the American stock exchange were mixed. Lake Shore dropped 1/4. Royalite Oil gained 1/4 and Giant Yellowknife remained unchanged.

Active trade in oats and barley featured today's session. There were reports of a heavy export of 200,000 bushels of the U.S. and Ireland was reported to be a heavy buyer of the last of the crop.

Available May and October barley climbed to seasonal highs. Flax and rye trade was light and featureless.

CIO Attacks Ike's Picture Of Employment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO and one of former President Truman's economic advisers today challenged President Eisenhower's claim that a strong economic comeback took place in 1954 and his optimistic forecast of a high and satisfactory level of employment with in the current year.

Both Stanley H. Ruttenberg, CIO's education and research director, and Leon Keyserling, chairman of the council of economic advisers under Truman, took issue with Eisenhower's economic report to Congress as the congressional economic committee opened hearings on the document.

Ruttenberg said U.S. economy operated at lower levels in 1954 than in 1953, although he conceded that "within the last two or three months there have been signs of an upturn."

But, said the CIO spokesman, "employment in manufacturing industries is still running more than 1,000,000 behind a year ago."

Keyserling said 1954 "could not be characterized as anything other than a year in which we fell alarmingly short of maximum employment and maximum production."

Foreign Fairs Will Show Canadian Goods

TORONTO (BUP)—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association moved today to boost the nation's exports by telling the world what Canada has to sell.

The executive of the CMA announced displays of Canadian products "are now being arranged" for fairs in Holland, Italy, Belgium, Japan and Britain.

The move was decided following success of a display at the Canadian government show-room in Rockefeller Centre, New York.

BUSINESS ROUND-UP

By DAVID STOCK, Times Business Editor

In case anyone was worrying, the provincial government let it be known Tuesday that its liquor business, in fact, better—than ever before.

British Columbians and the people who came to visit them paid out $71,946,307 for liquor during the fiscal year which ended last March 31. The government reaped a net profit of $21,233,148.

This puts liquor third in line as a source of revenue. The province gets its greatest return ($43,516,016 in '54) from the federal government through its tax-rental agreement.

Oakalla Doctor Tells Murder Jury Hoodley 'Aggressive Psychopath'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Murder suspect Robert Hoodley, 21, was described as an "aggressive psychopath" by two psychiatrists Tuesday during his assize court trial.

The case is expected to go to the all-male jury today. Hoodley is accused of slaying his girl friend's stepfather, longshoreman John Tonick, 29, in Tonick's home Nov. 13.

Dr. Richard Richmond, Oakalla Prison physician and former child guidance clinic psychiatrist, testified that Hoodley was released from Oakalla the morning of the day Tonick was shot. He did not say why the accused was in the prison.

Dr. Richmond and Dr. Robert Whitman both testified they were definite in their opinion Hoodley is an aggressive psychopath. Both said he was intelligent.

Two other crown witnesses, both now serving sentences in Oakalla prison, said that only a few hours before the killing, Hoodley produced a gun in a downtown beer parlor and threatened to shoot one of them during an argument over some spilled beer.

Hoodley, who had appeared calm through the trial, leaned forward and buried his face in his hands when his mother took the stand to testify on his childhood.

The evidence was given shortly after 18-year-old Pat Wallace testified her stepfather had forced improper relations on her from the time she was a young girl.

WOMEN WIN EQUAL PAY IN U.K. CIVIL SERVICE

LONDON (Reuters)—More than 130,000 women in government service Tuesday were offered pay equal to men's in the same kind of jobs for the first time in British history.

The offer, announced by R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer, in the House of Commons, is expected to produce a wave of similar demands from millions of women in private industry.

For decades labor unions have campaigned against paying women less than men when they perform the same jobs. Both the former Labor and present Conservative governments have agreed in principle to equal pay for women and pledged to adopt the system for government employees as soon as the country could afford the extra expense.

The plan applies only to the non-industrial employees. The extra cost is estimated at about $36,000,000 a year.

"Mr. Speaker, and members of the Legislative Assembly. I welcome you to the third session of the 24th Parliament of British Columbia." Thus, in careful, formal phrases, Lieutenant-Governor Clarence

Wallace started the wheels of legislation turning as the elected representatives of the people of B.C. prepared to conduct the business of the people of B.C. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

Premier Clears Way For Night Sittings

$4 Million Paper Plant On Lulu Island

VANCOUVER (CP)—Plans to construct a $4,000,000 paper converting plant on Lulu Island were announced here today by Crown Zellerbach Canada, Ltd.

Construction will start in May and is scheduled to be completed by the end of the year. Production is expected to start in February of 1956.

Clearing and filling of a 152-acre site on the south arm of the Fraser River began several months ago.

The plant will be one of the biggest single-story industrial plants under one roof in western Canada, and will include a 96-inch corrugating machine, valued at $550,000.

More than 400 persons will be employed at the plant.

'Tis Woman's World; They Control Money'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Mrs. Ruth Sherrill, vice-president of the First National Bank here, said Tuesday that women spend 85 cents out of every customer dollar and own 70 per cent of the private wealth in this country.

"Men may get their pictures on money," she said, "but women get their hands on it."

The premier served notice of motion on the House order paper that "on Thursday, January 27, and all following days of the session, there will be two distinct sittings on each day—one from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. and one from 8 p.m. to adjournment, unless otherwise ordered."

Usually the House sits from 3 p.m. to adjournment at 6 o'clock.

The resolution, in view of the premier's earlier statements he would like to bring down the budget on Friday, February 4, will be taken seriously by MLAs.

It was learned, meanwhile, that Social Credit speakers in the Throne debate will limit their remarks to 20 minutes. Not many are expected to take part in the debate.

4,000 Britons Protest Pact

LONDON (Reuters)—British justice dealt lightly today with 11 men seized during a clash outside Parliament Tuesday night between police and a crowd of 4,000 demonstrating against German rearmament.

Two defendants were dismissed, seven placed on bail, and two received small fines. Carpenter John Holland, 25, was fined £10 for assaulting a policeman, and clerk George Beveridge, 25, £1 on a similar charge.

LANGLEY PRAIRIE, B.C. (CP)—A proclamation will be issued by the provincial government creating Langley Prairie as B.C.'s 36th city as soon as letters patent are completed.

WENT TO 'FIX FURNACE' MISSING EVER SINCE

COURTENAY (CP)—RCMP today were still searching for Tom Carlyle, 53, missing from his home here since Saturday evening.

Mr. Carlyle, well known for his auctioneering trade, left several friends sitting in the living room Saturday night when he went to "fix the furnace." He hasn't been seen since.

A tracking dog from Parksville, hampered by the wanderings of search parties and heavy rains, failed to uncover a scent.

Car Prizes Banned On PNE Tickets

The Pacific National Exhibition will lose an estimated $200,000 annually through a new interpretation of federal lottery laws by the B.C. attorney-general's department.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the government will not allow the PNE to sell advance tickets which give the buyer a chance on new cars, as well as admission to PNE grounds.

In past years ticket sales had started as much as one month before the Ex opened. The AG's department has ruled that such "lotteries" are only legal when tickets are sold right on the fair grounds.

Many other agricultural fairs in B.C. followed the lead of the PNE, and sold advance tickets with prize inducements. The $200,000 loss estimated by PNE officials represents tickets sold to persons who do not attend the exhibition but buy tickets only for the lottery.

He is on bail on charges of obstructing justice, after refusing to name the men who shot him in Stanley Park during an alleged "drug war" in Vancouver.

He was in "fair condition" in hospital today, his room under a heavy police guard.

Britain, France Reject Red Note

MOSCOW (UP)—Britain and France today rejected Soviet complaints against German rearmament contained in Russia's December notes threatening to cancel friendship treaties with the two nations.

The Franco-British views were made known after the ambassadors of the two nations visited the Soviet foreign office. Texts of the notes were not available.

Tachen Evacuation Now Key to Crisis

CHINA CRISIS AT A GLANCE

Eden Backs Ike Policy; Angriely Rebukes Attlee

LONDON (UP)—Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden staunchly defended President Eisenhower's Formosa policy but appealed in the House of Commons for an immediate cease-fire in the Formosa straits as a means of gaining a "wider settlement" in the Far East. Britain's main concern is to stop the fighting between Chinese Nationalists and Communists, he said.

At the same time, Sir Anthony angrily rebuked Labor leader Clement Attlee's statement the U.S. action constituted interference with China's civil war. "Never in the century," said Eden, "has Formosa been considered part of China." But he indicated Britain considered "the offshore islands"—presumably the Tachens and Quemoy—as within Chou En Lai's sphere of power.

Senate Committee Approves, 26-2

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate foreign relations and armed services committees approved, 26-2, giving President Eisenhower full war powers to defend Formosa and its outposts. Senator Wayne Morris, Oregon Independent, joined with Republican William Langer of North Dakota in opposing the resolution.

Peiping Sees 'New War Provocation'

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's Peiping radio, in a series of broadcasts, warned the U.S. 7th fleet to quit Formosan waters, and declared talk of a cease-fire "is sheer humbug, designed to camouflage the new war provocation of the U.S. government."

'Brazen Intervention' Says Pravda

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet newspaper Pravda charged President Eisenhower's "stop or we'll fight" policy is "brazen intervention" and a "preparation of direct aggression" against continental China.

No Change in U.S. Defense Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Wilson told Congress he sees no need for "important changes" in U.S. armed forces "short of war." He didn't mention Formosa. Wilson does not expect Russia "to take action during the next few years that would deliberately precipitate another world conflict."

U.S. Navy Orders Ships to Far East

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Three U.S. Navy heavy cruisers and eight destroyers will sail February 8 for the Far East.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Secret orders brought the 3,200-passenger transport, Marine Adder, from her Puget Sound moorage Tuesday and Military Sea Transportation service officials rushed to prepare her for sea.

New Zealand Reorbits Defense Plans

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—The growing Communist threat in the Far East has brought a profound change in New Zealand's defense outlook. This change is likely to form the basis of the New Zealand attitude at the coming conference in London of Commonwealth prime ministers.

Victorians Regain Boat-Rail Connections

Faster Trans-Continental Railway Service Gives City Double Benefit

Victoria will benefit two ways from the fast trans-continental train service to be introduced by Canada's April 24.

Not only will they save between 12½ and 16 hours traveling between Vancouver and Toronto, but they will once again be afforded good transfer connections between trains and boats.

DATE MOVED UP

It was learned from CPR officials in Victoria today that to coincide with the start of the faster train service, B.C. Coast Service will bring its faster ships onto the Victoria-Enochover run April 24. In previous years, these ships have not been employed until June 1.

The schedule will be arranged so that eastbound passengers will leave Victoria by boat at 1:10 p.m.; arrive Vancouver at 5:25 to connect with the eastbound CPR train "The Canadian" at 8:30.

ARRIVES 9:10

Westbound, the fast trans-continental train will arrive in Vancouver at 9:10 a.m., and will connect with the ship leaving for Victoria at 10, arriving here at 2:15.

Stuart Keate, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, which last year complained to the CPR regarding the lack of good connections between ships and trains, said today's announcement was "most heartening."

He felt the CPR could expect more business people making use of the shipping facilities because of the more convenient schedule.

Clash Between U.S. Fleet And Reds Is Possible

By WILLIAM MILLER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—Jet fighters and fighter-bombers from the powerful U.S. 7th Fleet patrolled the skies north of Formosa today in a warning to Red China against interfering with American defense strategy in this tense Far Eastern area.

The American war planes—some 300 strong—are on hand to cover and assure the success of the planned withdrawal of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's 10,000 Nationalist troops and 20,000 Chinese civilians from the invasion-threatened Tachen islands.

(London Daily Express correspondent Russell Spurr, now in Shanghai, cabled Tuesday night that the U.S. 7th Fleet runs the risk of attack if it helps the Nationalists carry out the evacuation.

He wrote: "I was told to-night that the Tachen islands are only 18 miles from the Chinese mainland. A close approach by foreign ships could be interpreted as an aggressive gesture."

"Chinese Communist authorities are particularly incensed by the evacuation of civilians," he wrote. "They call it 'kidnapping.'"

A second shipload of 100 children and army dependents from the Tachens was expected to reach Formosa Thursday. The first shipload, carrying 177 children, mothers, widows, ailing soldiers and members of a nursing staff, arrived Tuesday.

A formal decision by the Chinese Nationalist government to proceed with the Tachens evacuation, tightening Formosa's lines of defense, was expected momentarily. But there were hints of dissension in the Chiang Kai-shek cabinet.

Authoritative sources here said the Nationalist government has agreed with the Americans that the Tachens must be evacuated, but the formal decision is awaiting Chiang's approval.

Reds Beaten Back in 4th Try
Waves of Nationalist heavy bombers smashed at Red Chinese invasion fleets north of the main Tachen island.

Nationalist pilots reported sinking one 1,500-ton Communist warship and said a fourth, unsuccessful Communist attempt to invade Matsu Island—10 miles off the China mainland coast—had been beaten back.

Night raids of heavy Nationalist bombers appeared to have silenced Communist artillery on Yikiangshan Island, barely eight miles north of Tachen. Chinese press reports here said, Vice-Admiral Alfred M. Pride, commander of the 7th Fleet, used 300 planes in the force north of Formosa, but naval sources here would not confirm the number of planes involved.

American pilots from the carrier Princeton were seen in Taipei today, leading to speculation the carrier had arrived in Formosan waters to reinforce the four big carriers already here. That would raise to 500 the number of carrier-based aircraft available to help in the evacuation of Tachen.

There were no reports of Communist activity against Tachen today although the Reds have shelled it repeatedly, giving rise to fears they might shell American ships evacuating the Nationalists.

The 7th Fleet itself was reported somewhere north of Formosa. Naval sources here denied reports any of its units already had clashed with Communist vessels.

The Nationalists said the Communists made their latest and fourth attempt against Kaotang Island in the Matsu group on Sunday but reported the landing attempt was repulsed.

The island, only six miles off the Communist-held coast, is 100 miles south of Tachen and center of Chiang Kai-shek's island defense outpost line. Reports from Matsu said the Reds had brought 70,000 troops into position just opposite the island and had massed large numbers of tanks.

The Nationalists predicted Communist invasion of the three main Nationalist outposts—Tachen, Matsu and Quemoy—the moment the Communists consolidate their hold on Yikiangshan.

Chiang Cabinet Splits on Ike Plan
The cabinet met in emergency session Tuesday night, but a foreign office spokesman denied reports the Nationalists had formally announced their intention of abandoning Tachen.

During the cabinet session O. K. Yui discussed the expected early evacuation of Tachen and re-deployment of Nationalist forces and the role of the U.S. Navy.

Informed sources reported a split in the cabinet over the decision, with some officials holding out for a fight to the death by Tachen's 10,000-man garrison despite overwhelming Communist air superiority there.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek conferred before the emergency meeting with Vice-Admiral Pride, and Read Admiral Frederick Kivette, commander of Task Force 77, which would carry out the evacuation.

Reliable sources said Chiang favored going along with President Eisenhower's recommendations that the United States Navy assist in removing the 10,000 troops and 20,000 civilians from the threatened islands.

The cabinet discussed reports from Foreign Minister George Yeh, now in Washington, on the United States change of policy and said it would issue a statement later. The announcement was withdrawn without explanation.

Nationalist sources insisted beforehand that if the government decided to go along with the United States recommendations it would do so reluctantly and would make this clear publicly. But even the Nationalist command in Tachen said the island could not be held without full air and naval support.

$200,000 LOSS?

Car Prizes Hit on PNE Ticket Ruling

The Pacific National Exhibition will lose an estimated $200,000 annually through a new interpretation of federal lottery laws by the B.C. attorney-general's department.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the government will not allow the PNE to sell advance tickets which give the buyer a chance on new cars, as well as admission to PNE grounds.

VANCOUVER (CP)—J. S. C. Moffitt, president of the Pacific National Exhibition, has called directors to meet next Wednesday to consider whether to make a test case of Attorney-General Bonner's lottery ruling.

"It seems remarkable that after 20 years during which various governments have condoned this, this government should suddenly find it illegal," Mr. Moffitt said.

Red Warplanes Hit Tachens

Red China warplane (arrow) strikes at Tachens islands as Nationalist ack-ack guns fight off 120-plane attack. Garrisoned by 10,000 Chiang Kai-shek soldiers, Tachens are key spot in redhot Formosa crisis. U.S. Senate is expected Thursday to support President Eisenhower's request for war-planes to defend Formosa bastion and its outposts.

Victorians Regain Boat-Rail Connections

Faster Trans-Continental Railway Service Gives City Double Benefit

Victoria will benefit two ways from the fast trans-continental train service to be introduced by Canada's two big railways at midnight April 24.

DATE MOVED UP
It was learned from CPR officials in Victoria today that to coincide with the start of the faster train service, B.C. Coast Service will bring its faster ships onto the Victoria-Vancouver run April 24. In previous years, these ships have not been employed until June 1.

The schedule will be arranged so that eastbound passengers will leave Victoria by boat at 1:10 p.m.; arrive Vancouver at 5:25 to connect with the east-bound CPR train "The Canadian" at 8:30.

4,000 Britons Protest Pact

LONDON (Reuters)—British justice dealt lightly today with 11 men seized during a clash outside Parliament Tuesday night between police and a crowd of 4,000 demonstrating against German rearmament.

Two defendants were dismissed seven places on bail, and two received small fines. Carpenter John Holland, 25, was fined £1 10s for assaulting a policeman, and clerk George Beveridge, 25, for a similar charge.

Premier Bennett served warning today the legislature will sit day and night, if necessary, to facilitate passage of the program announced in the Speech from the Throne.

The premier served notice of motion on the House order paper that "on Thursday, January 27, and all following days of the session, there will be two distinct sittings on each day—one from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. and one from 8 p.m. to adjournment, unless otherwise ordered."

Usually the House sits from 3 p.m. to adjournment at 6 o'clock.

The resolution, in view of the premier's earlier statements he would like to bring down the budget on Friday, February 4, will be taken seriously by MLA's.

It was learned, meanwhile, that Social Credit speakers in the Throne debate will limit their remarks to 20 minutes. Not many are expected to take part in the debate.

Commons Vote Favors Resolution 213-12

OTTAWA (BUP)—The House of Commons has voted in favor of rearming West Germany within the NATO framework after External Affairs Minister Pearson warned that failure to do so will destroy the growing forces of democracy in the former enemy country. The vote was 213 to 12.

Four front-bench socialists joined CCF leader M. J. Coldwell in support of the resolution. They were Angus Macinnis, the member for Vancouver Kingsway; Clarie Gillis, the member for Cape Breton South; Ross Thatcher, the member for Moose Jaw, and A. M. Campbell, the member for the Battlefords.

THREE ABSTAIN
Three CCF members stayed in the chamber but did not cast a vote.

They were Erhart Regier, the member for Burnaby-Coquitlam; H. A. Brunsen, the member for Humboldt-Melfort, and Mervyn Johnson, the member for Kin-dersley.

One member, Alistair Stewart of Winnipeg North, left the floor after listening to a blistering attack on the socialist position by Pearson. Winding up four days of debate, Pearson replied, point by point, to criticism and arguments of the dissenting socialists.

He pleaded for unanimous support, telling the House a vote against the resolution would be a vote in support of extremist elements—both Communist and Fascist—in other H. A. Brunsen, the member for Humboldt-Melfort, and Mervyn Johnson, the member for Kin-dersley.

U.S. Patrols Skies As Evacuation Looms

CHINA CRISIS AT A GLANCE

Eden Backs Ike Policy; Angry Rebukes Attlee

LONDON (UP)—Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden staunchly defended President Eisenhower's Formosa policy but appealed in the House of Commons for an immediate cease-fire in the Formosa straits as a means of gaining a "wider settlement" in the Far East. Britain's main concern is to stop the fighting between Chinese Nationalists and Communists, he said.

At the same time, Sir Anthony angrily rebuked Labor leader Clement Attlee's statement the U.S. action constituted interference with China's civil war. "Never in the century," said Eden, "has Formosa been considered part of China." But he indicated Britain considered "the offshore islands"—presumably the Tachens and Quemoy—as within Chou En-lai's sphere of power.

Senate Committee Approves, 26-2

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate foreign relations and armed services committees approved, 26-2, giving President Eisenhower full war powers to defend Formosa and its outposts. Senator Wayne Morris, Oregon Independent, joined with Republican William Langer of North Dakota in opposing the resolution.

Peiping Sees 'New War Provocation'

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's Peiping radio, in a series of broadcasts, warned the U.S. 7th fleet to quit Formosan waters, and declared talk of a cease-fire "is sheer humbug, designed to camouflage the new war provocation of the U.S. government."

No Change in U.S. Defense Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Wilson told Congress he sees no need for "important changes" in U.S. armed forces "short of war." He didn't mention Formosa. Wilson does not expect Russia "to take action during the next few years that would deliberately precipitate another world conflict."
